5 Days for the Homeless

- Club Description:

5 Days for the Homeless is a student-led campaign with a mission to raise awareness and donations for Youth Empowerment and Support Services (YESS), a local charity focused on youth homelessness prevention and support for homeless youth.

Throughout the month of March, 5 Days for the Homeless puts on 5 Days of events to help raise awareness and support for youth experiencing homelessness in Edmonton. 5 Days for the Homeless has a current team of 13 strong members, and 15 additional volunteers. Traditionally, 5 Days has slept outside for 5 days and 5 nights during their campaign week. Due to changing times in our world, we have decided to change our organization to hosting 5 events throughout the year, and prioritize the events themselves to bring greater awareness to youth that are experiencing homelessness in Edmonton. 5 Days originated on the University of Alberta campus in 2005 and dissolved into the Business Students Association in 2019. 5 Days for the Homeless is looking towards gaining its own independence in the 2024 year!

Alberta JDC West

- Club Description:

JDC West is the largest business competition in Western Canada and is a three-day event that showcases academics, athletics, debate, and an out-of-the-box social competition. Nearly 650 students from 12 of Western Canada's top universities unite annually to compete in this competition. JDC West seeks to assemble the best business students that Western Canadian universities have to offer. The competition provides students with the opportunity to compete with each other in all facets of business, while developing networking, critical thinking, and leadership skills. Each university sends one team of 46+ representative students to participate respectively in one of 10 Academic Competitions, 1 Parliamentary Debate, 1 Athletic Competition or 1 Social Competition. Points are awarded and accumulated towards a team being declared "School of the Year".

Alberta Law Review Society

- Club Description:

The Alberta Law Review is published quarterly by the Alberta Law Review Society, a nonprofit group of law students from the University of Alberta and the University of Calgary. The Alberta Law Review has been published continuously since 1955 and is the successor to the Alberta Law Quarterly which was established in 1934. The objective of the Alberta Law Review is to promote legal research and scholarship and to provide a forum for the discussion of contemporary legal issues. The Alberta Law Review now has a total Canadian and international circulation of over 2500.

The Alberta Law Review is grateful to the Law Society of Alberta, the Faculties of Law at the University of Alberta and the University of Calgary, and to its patrons and advertisers for their ongoing encouragement, support and assistance.

Alberta Not-for-Profit Association

- Club Description:

ANPA is a student-run club based out of the Alberta School of Business. We aim to connect all U of A students with the many opportunities available to them across the Not-for-Profit sector.

During the fall semester, we plan to organize various events open to students from all faculties with the goal of increasing their awareness of the NFP sector. These will include opportunities to hear from professionals involved in the sector, events to learn more about how to be involved with the sector, etc.

In the winter semester, we host 12+ teams from across the nation and internationally to compete in our external case competition. We partner with an NFP facing a significant problem and we challenge students to come up with an innovative solution over a 24 hour time period before presenting their recommendations to a diverse panel of judges.

Alberta Youth Parliament: UofA Chapter

- Club Description:

At its core, Alberta Youth Parliament establishes itself on the values of public speaking, youth-led engagement, and community development. Our members' regular involvement in various AYP events and opportunities is what has made us so successful for over 100 years. We pride ourselves in the abilities of our members to take on the challenge of parliamentary debate and create a community of youth leadership through

AYP. This organization will be representing AYP at the UofA where students can use parliamentary procedures to debate in a 3 day conference.

Our flagship event is our annual December and February session, where we spend four to six fun-filled days debating member-written resolutions inside the Legislative Building. This session is structured to be similar to the sittings of the actual Legislature, and we follow Westminster Parliamentary procedure. However, AYP is completely non-partisan and members are free to take whatever side in a debate that they wish to. The UofA has its own dedicated students who represent youth and young adults in Alberta. Through raising awareness on important issues in society, students debate and work on resolutions together to help gain debate, leadership, and public speaking skills necessary for future endeavours. Our annual 3 day formal conference will include workshops and parliamentary debates where students learn to utilize parliamentary procedures.

Association for Women in Mathematics Student Chapter University of Alberta

- Club Description:

The Women in Math Meet-up serves as a safe space where students can seek advice, share experiences, and find inspiring role models. Collaborating with fellow women and gender minorities instills confidence, particularly in a field where their representation is limited. Our mathematics majors often find themselves in large, impersonal classes, leading to a lack of social interaction. This isolation continues into advanced proof-based courses, which mainly involve independent work. The Women in Math Meet-up aims to bridge this gap, contributing to a more inclusive and supportive environment within our department.

Bench to Bedside Students' Association

- Club Description:

The Bench to Bedside Students' Association (B2B) is the first student organization to bring basic science and clinical students together in the faculty of medicine and dentistry at UofA. B2B aims to encourage a diverse community by networking and collaboration opportunities between the graduate students and MD students. Encourage the value of a Ph.D. degree in sciences to enter medical school and vice versa. This platform will provide opportunities to students to pursue careers in translational medicine by getting a feeling of what life is on the bench-side and the bedside. Currently, our plan is to organize events like simulation labs that will give graduate students an idea of a day in the life as an MD student, while including informational seminars on the MD/PhD dual degree program and attending medical school after receiving a PhD. The goal of this group is to explore medicine, from bench to bedside.

BGCBigs UoA Student Association

- Club Description:

The Big Brothers Big Sisters Boys and Girls Club Students' Association provides University of Alberta students with the opportunity to volunteer their time and get involved with mentoring an elementary or junior high student through the BGCBigs of Edmonton. The program operates in conjunction with the affiliate organization who brings students to campus once a week over the lunch hour. The focus of this program is to introduce elementary or junior-high school children to the University of Alberta and allow them to benefit from a positive mentor in their life as they otherwise may not have the opportunity to explore post-secondary education, in hopes of giving them more exposure to different possibilities for the future. As a mentor in this program, you will have the opportunity to build a relationship with a child and act as a positive role model in their life. You will participate in various activities such as playing board games and making crafts as well as visiting Faculties to introduce the subject matter. This club also hopes to provide an opportunities for community mentors to bring their littles to events and allow them to build meaningful relationships with each other.

Brain Waves Edmonton

- Club Description:

The University of Alberta, School of Public Health is proudly undertaking the nationally recognized Brain Waves NGO initiative in Edmonton. Our vision is to inform and free child patients of life-debilitating brain injuries in hospital care.

<https://www.ualberta.ca/public-health/research/centres/injury-prevention-centre>

We are passionate about educating children and youth about the brain and nervous system to inform children on how to best prevent brain injury. These prevention messages are designed to help kids think first, stay active, be healthy and stay safe. All this is packed into a fun and interactive educational program targeting children in classrooms and hospitals. The program material fulfills several curriculum expectations in Physical Education, Health, Science and Technology, and Language (depending on the province).

Brain Waves is organized during "Brain Awareness Month" in March of each year.

During Brain Waves a trained university volunteer delivers innovative and interactive lessons that teach about the form and function of the brain, spinal cord, and the 5 senses – sight, hearing, taste, touch, and smell. Interwoven into these lessons is information about injury and injury prevention. Health providers and volunteers alike have reported that Brain Waves provides vivid and stimulating information about nervous system function.

If you are interested in joining our club please email us at bwaves@ualberta.ca or join our 2023-2024 Mailing List here: <https://forms.gle/tKDdy9tipvCWGVMe9>

We will not be accepting registrations directly through BearsDen.

Champions of Change

- Club Description:
Champions of Change UAlberta is a very versatile student group with a commitment and passion for serving both our international and local communities! A number of our initiatives support the international efforts of PLAN International, a humanitarian relief organization, in the areas of healthcare, gender equality, children's rights, and more. Additionally, our team frequently plans initiatives to support our local community, particularly those experiencing poverty and homelessness, while maintaining close relations with a number of community organizations and businesses.

Outside of our fundraising and awareness initiatives, we run a blog where we accept submissions on any topic from anyone who would like to spread awareness about an issue they are passionate about. Our hope is to provide youth on campus and in the community with a platform to advocate for and enact change.

Christian Legal Fellowship University of Alberta Student Chapter

- Club Description:

The CLF U of A is a group of students that meet together weekly for prayer, fellowship, and devotional activities. We also aim to host occasional social and service events throughout the year. We recognize the need for fellowship and support for Christian law students; however, we also recognize that we are called to love and serve our colleagues, our school, and our community. In light of these recognitions, the CLF stands as a forum of encouragement, exhortation, and accountability for believers within the Faculty of Law. We carry each other's burdens and share in each other's joy as we walk the narrow path with Jesus Christ.

We welcome anyone who is interested in participating in our group meetings, whether Christian, curious or otherwise. Come prepared to make friends as we grow together in our understanding of the Gospel of Jesus Christ and the practice of law.

We are affiliated with the Christian Legal Fellowship of Canada, a national organization of believers committed to serving and glorifying God in through the legal profession. We encourage our members to attend the CLF's annual student conferences and other events, to reap the mentorship and wisdom of those who have gone before. Find out more about the CLF at www.christianlegalfellowship.org.

Community Service-Learning

- Club Description:

Welcome to Community Service-Learning (CSL)!

CSL offers UAlberta students the opportunity to work and make a difference with a local community group, while reflecting and putting their experiences in context within a university course. These community partnerships provide opportunities for students to gain valuable experience, and to contribute and increase their awareness of the social and political life of their community.

We integrate service-learning into existing courses in diverse subjects and disciplines, including: women's studies, visual anthropology, rural economy, creative writing, aboriginal governance, criminology, modern language and cultural studies, political science, social entrepreneurship, and many others.

Since 2003, nearly two hundred community organizations in and around Edmonton, both on- and off-campus, from small grassroots groups to large non-profit organizations, have partnered with the CSL Program.

Please feel welcome to contact us at CSL, or just drop by, to get involved. We would be happy to let you know about other exciting CSL opportunities including: Certificate in Community Engagement and Service-Learning, CSL-designated courses, Student Internships, Non-Profit Board Internship, Pathways program, our NEW Global Service-Learning & Solidarity in Nicaragua course, and more!

Community, Advocacy, Philanthropy, & Equity

- Club Description:

Finding opportunities to be involved in as a busy student is DIFFICULT. Although many students may want to become leaders in their communities, they may not know the logistics in doing so.

This is what created the foundation for CAPE. We intend to bring involvement, leadership and service opportunities to all of our members to promote altruism in the many communities we are apart of. We will be creating partnerships with philanthropic organizations to allow various opportunities to choose from. Our future plans for this group involve providing service, leadership and volunteering opportunities for our members, possible fundraising events for charities, and more. We can't wait to create heroes across campus through CAPE.

If you are interested in becoming a member, then please email us!

Computer Engineering Club

- Club Description:

The Computer Engineering Club is a great place to meet new people, participate in fun events, and buy snacks or engg paper. Every student in Computer Engineering is a member of the club and can participate in club events. To get more involved students should come by the club office or attend our Annual General Meetings in Fall and Winter Term.

Each year the Club participates in Geer Week, and other events. We also hold CompE Week, a series of professional development events covering a range of topics from resumes, networking, and interview practice.

CompE club's biggest events are Aether and HackED. Aether is our club's newest and premier event; it's a tech conference and the University's first hybrid technical career fair, launched in February 2024. Even though it was only launched this year, with over 1,200 attendees across countries including all across Canada, the US, and China, Aether is the event with the largest attendance. HackEd (currently an official MLH event) is a large scale hackathon with over 400+ participants and a more competitive environment. Both of these are amazing opportunities to connect with industry, learn some new skills, and make something you're passionate about CompE club encourages students to work on their skills and provide them with more experience and resources outside of school.

Connect Tutoring Edmonton

- Club Description:

Amidst the pandemic, there is a greater need for one-on-one academic help. We know that online school comes with a host of challenges to overcome (less focused help, difficulty asking questions, limited homework support, self-directed studying, etc.) and as tutors, we understand that getting help can be costly. Our goal is to address both of these barriers to education through access to free one-hour sessions led by experienced students. We hope that this project will ease some of the stress and uncertainty around studying and learning amidst a pandemic, while facilitating getting one-on-one help.

Connecting Seniors with Care UAlberta

- Club Description:

Connecting Seniors with Care UAlberta is a nonprofit organization and our mission is to create a movement to end social isolation of seniors internationally. Due to the COVID-19 pandemic, we have currently switched over to virtual volunteering where volunteers Zoom call seniors. As restrictions ease, we have also slowly started to transition into in-person volunteering, where youth will go into senior associations to engage in social activities.

Engineering Students' Society of the University of Alberta

- Club Description:

The Engineering Students' Society (ESS) of the University of Alberta is the student group representing all undergraduate engineering students at the U of A with delegated representative authority from the SU Council under SU Bylaw 8100. Founded in 1919, the ESS advocates for student interests at the Faculty and University levels, offers academic and professional development services for students, and builds community among engineering students.

Our Mission: To promote professional awareness among engineering students by encouraging a sense of unity and integrity through the combined efforts of all engineers working together in both social and technical activities.

Undergraduate engineering students at the University of Alberta study in one of the following nine disciplines: Mechanical, Civil and Environmental, Chemical, Materials, Electrical, Computer, Engineering Physics, Mining or Petroleum. Each discipline has its own discipline-specific engineering club. The presidents of these clubs as well as all members of the ESS senior executive make-up the ESS Board of Directors. Each January the discipline clubs engage in a week of friendly competition known as GEER Week. Events include Battle of the Bands, Keg Races, and Are You Smarter Than A First Year. The winners are crowned at the formal Engineering Ball held at the end of the week. Other events run throughout the year by the ESS include the Engineering Carnival, Glow Party, the annual Engineering Head Shave, the Ski Trip, Pi Throw, Career Fair and professional mixers among others.

Engineers in Action: University of Alberta Student Chapter

- Club Description:
Engineers in Action exists at the University of Alberta for the purpose of bridging the gap of isolation in developing communities around the world through the strategic design and construction of footbridges, ensuring year-round safe access to essential resources such as education, healthcare, and markets. It provides students with the opportunity for involvement, leadership and service in the social justice sector.

Engineers Without Borders UAlberta

- Club Description:
We strongly encourage students from all faculties to join and share their own knowledge and experience.

Founded in 2000, Engineers Without Borders has quickly become one of Canada's most respected, critical-thinking, and innovative organizations dedicated to ending extreme poverty in the Global South.

We are committed, energetic and passionate about creating positive global change. Investing in people and ideas - we aim to tackle the most crucial causes of poverty and inequality. Initiating new ideas and putting them into action, we lead bold, innovative and meaningful events to increase awareness and engage a wide range of people while keeping in mind the developing communities with whom we work. We understand the importance of feedback to fuel our learning as individuals and as a team - we are always open to improvement in our pursuit of excellence. As a team, we are accountable to ourselves and other members to create a unique, inclusive and supportive chapter.

Contrary to what some might initially think when they hear the name "Engineers Without Borders", our focus is not on travelling overseas to building wells and bridges - we use the problem-solving skills that university students typically develop to drive positive social change. Through Leadership, Political Advocacy, Invested Partnerships, and Member Learning we aim to educate ourselves and others on sustainable development and how we can all become systems-change leaders.

English and Film Studies Undergraduate Network

Faculty of ALES Undergraduate Student Association

- Club Description:

Hello Everyone! FAUnA is the Undergraduate Faculty Association for the Faculty of ALES! We are your voice to the University. Our role is to connect the faculty to its students, to advocate for what the ALES undergraduates students need to the Student Union, and to help with the administration and affairs of the students. Our goal is to promote the development of ALES student initiatives, foster community within the faculty, and advocate for the general welfare of ALES students. The Faculty Association is made up of students just like you who want to be more aware and involved in the inner workings of the ALES faculty and the University of Alberta as a whole. We are trying to increase the feeling of community within ALES. As of right now that looks like creating ALES merch and aiming to host a variety of faculty wide events. If you or someone you know is interested in being more involved, is in need of support, has questions, or has ideas about what they would like to see from FAUnA please email or DM us via Instagram or Facebook. We would love to hear from you!

Faculty of Engineering Graduate Research Symposium

- Club Description:

The graduate students of the Faculty of Engineering organize an annual Graduate Research Symposium that is held on campus each spring. This student-run symposium allows graduate students in the Faculty to present their research to other students in an academic setting. Students can also discover other research within their own Faculty. Professional development workshops on topics ranging from software training to job search techniques are also organized.

Faculty of Law Mental Health and Wellness Committee

- Club Description:

We are dedicated to promoting positive mental health for the students of Faculty of Law by providing a "Tool Kit" of skills that can be used to help handle the stress of school, and carry them over into the practice of law. This includes bringing health and wellness-oriented events to Law students including, but not limited to, yoga and stair-climbing classes, pet therapy, guest speakers, and workshops.

Forest Society at the University of Alberta

- Club Description:

The Forest Society is an organization of undergraduate and graduate students with specific interests in forestry.

Our objectives are to promote the practice of good forest stewardship, with respect to the concepts of sustainable yield, biodiversity, and multiple use. In addition, we encourage members to become aware and involved with forestry issues, promote social activities, as well as increase contact with the forest community.

The Forest Society is very active, both on and off the university campus. We have a number of sports teams (men, women, and co-ed), competing in the university intramural circuit. Throughout the academic year, we host numerous social events and also participate in those hosted by the ALES faculty.

Trees Sales is a major fundraiser for the Forest Society, and begins annually in mid-December. Volunteers sell several varieties of Christmas trees to the public from a convenient location right on the university campus. A portion of Christmas tree sales are donated to the United Way and donations are also collected for Foresters Without Borders.

Friends Across Campus

- Club Description:

University can be a lonely place, so our mission is to help students on campus make new friends and feel supported in all of the stresses that they face. We host monthly Speed Friending and other fun networking events throughout the school year. Speed-friending is a lot like speed dating, but with the goal of meeting a lot of new people from different departments and backgrounds and making friends. We also have other fun activities at our events to help students unwind and decompress from the stresses of studying and exams, such as board games, scavenger hunts, pumpkin carving, paint nights, and crafts.

Our Friendship Match initiative also facilitates friendship on campus by grouping together students with similar interests to complete fun challenges together and compete for prizes. Additionally, we host outreach events throughout the school year with the goal of providing resources and tips to students on how to more effectively and confidently initiate conversations with others, support other students who are going through a difficult time, and build lasting friendships.

We are a valuable resource for many students, including those who hope to overcome loneliness or social anxiety, those who want to practice networking and building connections for their future careers, those who are new to Canada and want to practice their English skills, and those who simply want to find other students with common interests and build lasting friendships. Through our initiatives, we foster the growth of these relationships in a safe, inclusive, non-judgemental environment. Furthermore, by bringing together students of different backgrounds, we hope to build a more supportive and inclusive campus community with a greater appreciation for diversity. Join us on Bearsden and follow us on Facebook or Instagram to be notified about our events.

Girl Up University of Alberta Students Association

- Club Description:

Girl Up University of Alberta aims to make a difference in the lives of girls and women in Alberta and around the world through advocacy, fundraising, and conversation. We take an intersectional approach when looking at issues that affect girls and make sure to consider the racial, environmental, historical, and political aspects of feminist matters. Some of our key causes are access to education, teen pregnancy, child marriage, racial injustices, LGBTQ+ advocacy, disability awareness, climate change, and Indigenous rights. All of these causes globally affect women and girls, whether directly or indirectly. Girl Up is an international organization that works with the United Nations Foundation to fundraise for programs that directly benefit girls in developing countries, as well as raising awareness and taking action on local issues that impact girls and marginalized community.

Global Brigades University of Alberta Chapter

- Club Description:

Global Brigades (GB) is an international movement of students and medical professionals working alongside local communities and staff to treat the systemic challenges vulnerable communities are facing by employing a 5 Brigade system, ultimately creating long-lasting, sustainable change for these communities. The 5 pillars of Global Brigades are Medical, Dental, Public Health, Business, and Water. We work in remote, rural, and under-resourced communities in Honduras, Panama, Nicaragua, Ghana, Guatemala, and Greece that would otherwise have limited to no access to health care. Each community receives a brigade every 3 to 4 months where hundreds of patients are provided access to healthcare and volunteers deliver public health workshops. Electronic patient records are collected for future visitations and monitor overall community health trends. These communities also receive permanent health and sanitation infrastructure, water treatment systems, and aid in setting up businesses to sustain their water treatment facilities.

This school year 2023-24, GB UofA will be embarking on a Medical brigade to Ghana; a Dental brigade to Honduras; Public health, Business, and Water brigade to Panama. During the Medical Brigade volunteers will shadow local and foreign health professionals as they provide pro-bono consultations and medications to patients in rural communities. Volunteers assist with intake, triage, medication packing, and health education.

During the Dental Brigade volunteers will shadow local and foreign dental care professionals as they provide pro-bono consultations and medications to patients in rural communities. Volunteers assist with intake, triage, medication packing, and health education.

During the Public Health Brigade volunteers will enter the homes of rural community members to shadow local and foreign masons, carpenters, and infrastructure engineers to build long-lasting, life-changing infrastructure in rural communities, including eco-stoves, floors, showers, and hand washing stations.

During the Water Brigade volunteers will shadow local and foreign masons, carpenters, and infrastructure engineers to build long-lasting, life-saving water treatment infrastructure in rural communities, along with providing education to communities.

During the Business Brigade volunteers will shadow local and foreign business experts as they provide education, and help communities set up businesses to create sustainable incomes for self-sustainability.

Good Ally Program Student Association

- Club Description:

Program Overview

The Good Ally Program is an educational initiative of True North Aid and was developed in response to Canadians who seek opportunities to engage in discussion in learning about, and accepting the truth, of the lived experiences of Indigenous people in Canada. Offering rich, informative resources and experiences that support the Truth and Reconciliation Committee's 94 Calls to Action, the objective of GAP is to inspire Canadians to assume the responsibility of the necessary and individual effort required to step up and into the reconciliatory work that is asked of us.

With Indigenous consultation and support, GAP seeks to help rebuild the original intent of nation-to-nation relationship between Indigenous and non-Indigenous people in Canada, a relationship that is long overdue to all of us.

How can this be achieved together?

University chapters are encouraged to meet and brainstorm what student participants are interested in learning about together, ways in which to engage the student body, and lastly, how might they begin to build relationship with an existing Indigenous student club or association.

With the support and guidance of a True North Aid's Reconciliation Program Coordinator, our organization can offer a few initial options for the University chapter, such as participating in an overview of how True North Aid demonstrates commitment to Truth and Reconciliation and attending an online Settler Discussion Series.

Growing with Grief

- Club Description:

A group of young adults who have experienced grief in any capacity, who wish to join a community. This community is focused on communication, understanding, open-mindedness, and empathy. Anyone is welcome and encouraged to share their story. This group will include group sharing, listening, and discussing, as well as providing access to resources about grief, trauma, exhaustion, living life again, and counselling information. As this group grows, the hope is to host events on campus and reach as many people as possible, whether they are fellow grievers or not. Recruiting speakers to present about grief and loss to the group would also be a goal to build towards.

Health Sciences Students' Association

- Club Description:

The University of Alberta Health Sciences Students' Association is a local chapter of the National Health Sciences Students' Association (NaHSSA). The NaHSSA is a national collaborative student organization that is composed of 19 local chapters at numerous participating post-secondary institutions in Canada. The University of Alberta HSSA is comprised of the entire student body of all the health sciences faculties at the University of Alberta.

The HSSA is an organization dedicated to the development of trust, acceptance, and understanding of the various health disciplines' training, expertise, and role in order to promote and achieve excellence in communication and collaboration early in training and throughout lifelong learning. Its function is to influence changes in curricula, increase interactions between the health disciplines, and broaden the scope of interdisciplinary collaboration with an emphasis on the importance of student-driven learning and patient-centered care.

Heart 4 Heart University of Alberta

- Club Description:

In developing countries, many children who are suffering from congenital heart disease which prevents them from engaging in normal daily activities have limited access to medical treatment due to financial problems. Medical treatment should be available to everyone no matter where they are, who they are, and what they believe in. We want to embody this belief into our world. We desire to raise awareness of congenital heart disease and its effects, and financially help the children who are suffering from disease via holding fundraiser events.

Heart and Stroke Foundation Students' Association, University of Alberta

- Club Description:

Heart and Stroke Foundation Students' Association is an official affiliate of the Heart and Stroke Foundation at the University of Alberta that aims to fundraise more than $10,000 each fiscal year while promoting cardiovascular health awareness on campus. All fundraised proceeds go to the Heart and Stroke Foundation of Alberta, NWT & Nunavut, and the promotion of cardiovascular health at the University of Alberta. We also aim to bring university students who are passionate about healthcare together, and strengthen volunteerism and leadership capability.

Heart of the City Music Program Edmonton

- Club Description:

The Heart of the City Music Program (HCMP) provides a way for members of the community to share their love of music with children who would otherwise not have the opportunity to learn how to play the piano or guitar.

When children realize that they can play instruments and make music, the whole world opens up to them. They realize that they can be a part of the beauty around them and that they are more than capable of accomplishing whatever they set their minds to. Acting as positive role models for the students, volunteer teachers also receive the opportunity to hone their own teaching skills and to directly impact the lives of deserving children.

Our volunteers provide one-on-one piano and guitar lessons to students in inner city elementary schools at no charge. Each volunteer typically teaches 3 students, for 20 minutes each for a total of 1 hour, once a week. Another way to volunteer is by joining the Performance Troupe, which raises vital funds for and community awareness of the HCMP by sharing their musical talent at various events. We also hold unique fundraisers on campus, which goes towards funding our Music Resource Library and events. The year culminates with a year-end recital in March to celebrate the accomplishments of all of the students and teachers.

Please visit the HCMP website to learn more about the program and to apply to become a volunteer! :)

Help Young Minds

- Club Description:

Often, students may be required to be absent from school due to health-related issues. Others may not be able to access the resources they need to succeed due to socioeconomic reasons. Our mission is to help assist those in our community who do not have access to the resources they require for their education. We want to support all children who cannot attend school for some time or need extra help but are having difficulties finding the right resources or finances for that help. The resources we currently offer include free tutoring, educational videos to help facilitate learning, and weekly blog posts to guide all students on their academic journeys providing the support they may require.

Help-A-Homie

- Club Description:

Help-A-Homie aims to reduce the stigma surrounding homelessness by providing students throughout the University of Alberta with hands-on experience in relieving poverty. We will give students volunteer opportunities that include organizing fundraising events, and directly delivering food and supplies to those in need. Through these opportunities, not only will students be directly impacting the city of Edmonton, but they will also become more aware of the struggles and pain produced by poverty within their own communities.

Our organization is built on the principles of hope, community, and kindness. Through our initiatives, students can take away not only meaningful experience, but also an inspiration to apply these principles in their everyday lives for the overall betterment of our community. We aspire to an environment that views people experiencing homelessness not as just "homeless people," but as human beings who we take care of, just like we would our friends, or "homies."

Helping Hands For Homeless Youth

- Club Description:

Helping Hands for Homeless Youth is a non-profit student group that raises money to support and empower homeless youth. Events will be held throughout the year to help support the primarily the Edmonton youth shelter YESS (Youth Empowerment and Support Services), as well as other youth shelters around the city. Our most anticipated event is an annual Street Store in which we create a store-like environment for youth where they can shop for clothes, toiletries, and other goods -- the only payment required at this store is a smile! We hold other awareness campaigns throughout the year such as "Youth Story" in which we interview homeless youth to gain their perspective on their life experiences.

Hong Kong Student's Association - University of Alberta

- Club Description:

We are the Hong Kong Student Association at the University of Alberta. The Hong Kong Student's Association will serve as a safe platform for Hong Kong students, as well as any students who are interested in Hong Kong culture, to connect and strengthen bonds at the University of Alberta and in the greater Edmonton community. Membership is open to all students at the University of Alberta.

HUB Community Association

- Club Description:

At the HCA, we believe that your time on residences should create memories and bonds that will last a lifetime. Being elected and funded by our fellow HUB residents, we feel that it is our utmost duty to cultivate an environment that welcomes and engages our members. Creating such an atmosphere requires a collaborative effort amongst our HCA representatives. These five representatives work together to offer a diverse range of events and volunteer opportunities for our HUB BEES to participate in. In addition to this, we understand that this may be some residents' first time away from home. It is normal that our members may not have access to certain resources or know where to get them. Therefore, we offer a variety of services like buses to the grocery store, rentals, and bottle drives to fulfill those needs. Lastly, knowing that we are the largest residence on campus, communication is a vital component to keeping the HIVE alive. As a result, the HCA has numerous forms of communication like our website, monthly newsletter, social media, and Discord to accommodate all of our community members. We are thrilled to see what this new academic year holds and are devoted to making it a positive experience.

Human Ecology Graduate Students' Association

- Club Description:

The Human Ecology Graduate Students' Association is a department student group. All graduate students in Human Ecology are members. The group holds events for, and represents the interests of, its members. These events include social gatherings, professional development opportunities, and events to support research and writing. Human Ecology Students Association

- Club Description:

HESA is the Human Ecology Students' Association, which is managed by undergraduate students within the Department of Human Ecology at the University of Alberta. The group was started in the 2000/2001 calendar year.

HESA strives to create a memorable experience for undergraduate students in the Department of Human Ecology. Executive members provide networking opportunities for existing and newly-admitted undergraduate students through numerous social events. HESA also serves as a formal means for addressing student concerns within the department.

Humanity First - University of Alberta Chapter

- Club Description:

We are a student chapter of the humanitarian relief organization, Humanity First, that provides disaster struck countries with basic needs such as food, water and shelter. Yearly, we aim to raise funds locally (for the homeless community in Edmonton) and internationally for a variety of causes such as cataract surgeries, orphan care, or funds to help build a hospital for low income communities. If you are passionate about helping those in need, you can join our student group to befriend like-minded individuals and contribute to making a difference in the lives of others!

IEEE Student Branch

- Club Description:

The IEEE UAlberta Student Branch serves as the undergraduate representative body of IEEE to the University of Alberta. The goal of our student branch is to help our fellow IEEE student members through providing them the proper technical, professional, and career skills required to succeed in industry. Furthermore, due to IEEE's global recognition, our group holds industry connections with numerous different engineering and tech companies, including the likes of Telus and ATCO. Beyond these connections, we provide many services for the benefit of engineering undergraduate students. Some services we offer include technical workshops, resume reviews, corporate networking sessions, career opportunities and more. We also collaborate with the ECE Discipline Clubs and the ESS to organize professional and industry events throughout the academic year.

Immunology and Infection Students' Association

- Club Description:

It is the goal of the Immunology and Infection Students' Association to develop a cohesive and effectual network of Immunology and Infection students, University professors, and the academic and business worlds in general. We hope to provide services and social events for prospective and current students and alumni. Our goal is to provide opportunities for students to connect with fellow undergraduates in their program. Through community and social activities, we will both educate the public and generate awareness for our association.

InfoLink: Your Campus Connection

- Club Description:

We're your connection to the U of A!

At InfoLink we strive to be a comprehensive student information source for all things university focused. We specialize in academic information but are able to assist with any campus related question; if we don't know the answer, we'll find someone who does!

Our staff are equipped to explain academic policies and advising protocols, they can let you know what's happening on campus, and they can provide you with information about tutoring, used book sales, study materials, housing information, and they can link you to volunteer opportunities both on and off campus. We also distribute the U-Pass. InfoLink can be found across the U of A's South campus, as we have walk-up locations in SUB, CAB, and HUB. Our staff are ready and waiting to help answer your questions!

Ink Movement Edmonton

- Club Description:

When it comes to the arts, youth are not exceptionally well-represented. There are few opportunities available to students interested in creative writing, visual art, and photography. This is precisely the problem that Ink Movement Canada seeks to remedy. We want to bridge the gap between youth and accessible, fun, engaging arts programming such as our annual Youth Anthology. At the same time, we want to shine the spotlight on deserving youth artists. Because talent deserves to be recognized, and Ink Movement is a platform for that to happen.

Islamic Relief University of Alberta Chapter

- Club Description:

As a student group here at the University of Alberta (as of 2013), we are dedicated to carrying out Islamic Relief Canada's work of responding to people in need, regardless of religion, ethnicity, gender, and socioeconomic status. Our purpose as a student presence on campus is to inspire students to come together and make a difference in the lives of others, through awareness campaigns and fundraisers. We promote respect for/of all. We support the human right to basic resources such as food, water, education, and much more. Through our efforts as students, we strongly promote the notion of restoring others sense of dignity and self-worth, since empowerment goes a very long way in uplifting others. We are registered with SGS (Student Group Services) and APIRG (Alberta Public Interest Research Group).

This group is open to everyone, of any background!

Pertinent background on IR Canada:

Islamic Relief Canada itself (as an NGO), is an international aid and development charity that strives to alleviate the suffering, hunger, illiteracy and diseases worldwide, regardless of colour, race, religion or creed, and to provide aid in a compassionate and dignified manner. Islamic Relief Canada is affiliated with Canadian International Developmental Agency, Canada's Coalition to End Global Poverty, Disasters Emergency Committee, ECOSOC United Nations, and People in Aid. We have field offices all around the world.

Kappa Alpha Theta

- Club Description:

Founded on January 27, 1870, Kappa Alpha Theta is the first Greek-letter fraternity for women. Theta was established after our founder, Bettie Locke, declined wearing the badge of a men's fraternity at DePauw University, when she learned she would not be considered a member. She then started the women's fraternity that currently connects 250,000 women in North America together with the deep bonds of sisterhood. The word "sorority" did not exist when Theta was founded; Bettie Locke called Theta a "women's fraternity" to equalize the organization with men's fraternities.

Today, Theta provides members with a means to develop socially, intellectually and morally to help meet the higher and broader demands of mature life. The Beta Chi chapter at the University of Alberta is comprised of remarkable and diverse members who strive to excel in scholarship, leadership and service while developing an indescribable bond to each of their fellow Thetas. Our strong bonds of friendship are built through our ritual, which holds a special place in the hearts of each member, and the many events scheduled throughout the year.

One of our main goals is giving back to the community; our philanthropy events include CASA Carnival, with all proceeds go to CASA (Court Appointed Special Advocates) and pencil case building for ABC Head Start. Thetas also dedicate a large amount of time to philanthropy in their daily lives by volunteering with other organizations such as Help a Homie, Relay for Life, BGCBigs and many more.

Our colours are black and gold and our symbols are kites, pansies and twin stars.

Notable Thetas include Sheryl Crow, Laura Bush and Tory Burch.

Men's Health Group

- Club Description:

The Men's Health Group's (MHG) aim will be to promote awareness of men's health on campus, through events, workshops, social media, and fundraisers. The MHG will collaborate with other student groups, especially those that are wellness focused. By founding the MHG, we hope to destigmatize topics related to men's health, such as mental health. We aim to create a safe space for discussion and collaboration on campus, where there is a productive conversation regarding mental health in men. We believe there needs to be a larger connection of humanity and wellness on campus, which should not be impeded by societal boundaries, such as that of masculinity.

Mentor Us

- Club Description:

Mentor Us is a mentorship program through the Faculty of Nursing for graduate students. The aim of the club is to provide peer-peer mentorship, foster supportive environments, and to build connections within the nursing community.

Middle Eastern Student Association

- Club Description:

The Middle Eastern Student Association at the University Of Alberta is dedicated to cultivating a dynamic and welcoming community that transcends borders and brings together students hailing from diverse Middle Eastern backgrounds. We firmly believe that our shared heritage and unique experiences create a powerful platform for unity and mutual support.

Our association serves as a bridge that connects Middle Eastern students, offering them a place to foster deep friendships, exchange cultural insights, and explore the rich tapestry of traditions and histories that define the Middle East. Our members come from various countries across the region, each contributing a valuable piece of the mosaic that makes up our collective identity.

Our club is dedicated to promoting a deep sense of connection to one's heritage and ancestry, especially among international students. We believe that by embracing our shared roots and traditions, we foster a strong sense of belonging and unity. This connection forms the heart of our community, providing support and a sense of home that enhances the university experience for everyone involved.

Millennium STEM Alberta

- Club Description:

About Us

Millennium STEM Alberta is a not-for-profit, for-youth, by-youth organization that exists in the University of Alberta Students' Union recognition, and as a provincial branch of Millennium STEM Canada. Our goal is to empower youth through engagement and education in STEM (science, technology, engineering, and mathematics), and to help them recognize the importance of technology in all industries. We strive to address gender discrepancies in STEM-related careers by inspiring students to explore their potential.

Events

Pathways: Networking in the Health Sciences

We like to host activities such as Pathways that connect aspiring students in competitive fields of the sciences and connect them with students who have completed further education and professionals in the field. This helps to bridge the gap between the students' struggles and successes, especially for those that faced social barriers due to their gender. Come join us for amazing networking opportunities and connections of a lifetime!

What To Do With a Science Degree

Figuring out what to pursue further in your life after your undergraduate degree can be a confusing and overwhelming process. Since we are dedicated to help guide you through this process, we found people such as scientists in various fields, professors and graduate students to present their stories to help you understand the benefits of a science degree and educate you to apply them for yourself.

Mindfulness Meditation Club

- Club Description:

The Mindfulness Meditation Club (MMC) is a student organization at the University of Alberta. We meet once a week to practice meditation in the tradition of mindfulness and to explore the applications of mindfulness in our daily lives. Mindfulness has been the subject of much research and is a great way to reduce stress. Our goal is to provide a supportive space for members that promotes relaxation, resilience, and increased quality of life. Our practice encompasses a wide range of techniques, including but not limited to object-based meditation, vipassana, metta, choiceless awareness, and effortless mindfulness. Our group does not require any sort of religious/philosophical belief system and is open to absolutely everyone.

Mission SpaceWalker

- Club Description:

In this Artemis age of space exploration, a group of ambitious young women comprising Mission SpaceWalker are coming together to advance space research and diversity within the industry. Their projects have included an electroadhesive robotics experiment flown on a parabolic flight as part of the Canadian Reduced Gravity Experiment Challenge (CAN-RGX) organized by Students for the Exploration of and Development of Space Canada (SEDS-Canada), the National Research Council of Canada (NRC), and the Canadian Space Agency (CSA). Their current glacial analog project is focused on obtaining and analyzing water samples from the Athabasca glacier and helping the organization Rokaboo and Parks Canada develop a net-zero lab trailer. Mission SpaceWalker also strives to achieve their goals of inspiring women in STEM through outreach events, conferences, and academic publications.

Multiple Sclerosis Student Society

- Club Description:

The Multiple Sclerosis Student Society (MSSS) is a student group at the university of Alberta which aims at education, advocacy, and community. MSSS wishes to inspire students to partake in activities that promote public awareness of Multiple Sclerosis and to build a better community for people with Multiple Sclerosis.

Multiple Sclerosis receives little attention in the province of Alberta and as a non-profit organization we aim to bring more attention to this disease by implementing educational measures and supporting other communities with a similar goal.

The group wishes to inspire and interest university students along with members of the community to value their health, and to prevent future Multiple Sclerosis (MS) related disabilities by public awareness for MS and to create an engaging community for those with MS.

We are currently affiliated with the MS Canada.

Music For Memory

- Club Description:

Our goal is to improve the lives of those who are impacted by Alzheimer's and dementia, and we do this through our group of student volunteers. We have several areas within the group with different respective roles to help our organization run. The fundraising side of the group works to raise awareness and funds for Alzheimer's and dementia and to support our weekly volunteer activities with seniors in our community. The socials team promotes our activities as well as general information about Alzheimer's and expands our audience across several platforms. The activities team organizes the weekly volunteer activities with our seniors where our general members can sign up to participate. There's a place for everyone to get involved, and everyone can be as involved as they would like to be!

MusicBox Children's Charity - University of Alberta Chapter

- Club Description:

All operations of MusicBox Children's Charity are focused on stimulating the minds, widening the horizons, and fostering a love of music in children with disadvantages through volunteer-driven music appreciation and educational programs. The Charity's letters patent set out the following as the objects of The Charity:

1. Educating and promoting interest in the musical arts by providing classes, related workshops and performances of a musical nature to children and youth with disadvantages.
2. Providing youth initiatives within the community through volunteer opportunities in order to establish and inspire responsibility and social awareness within the youth population.

MusicBox Children's Charity brings music to young children who need it the most. We fully subscribe to the concept of music as a developmental tool, and to its beneficial effects on a child's social, academic and emotional development. Several studies have demonstrated the importance of music on a child's cognitive development. In a study published in Brain and discussed in The Lancet, it is shown that there is a clear difference between children who had experienced musical training and those who had not, leading the authors to conclude that there is evidence for "a transfer effect between musical and non-musical abilities, such as literacy, verbal memory, mathematics, and intelligence quotient." (Thomas, 2006)

We believe that the context in which music is taught is also important and that a welcoming and supportive class environment has an added benefit to a child's growth and development. We strive to provide our participants with positive role models in the form of their youth instructors and our classes are designed to be inclusive and encouraging. Within this environment, we believe that students gain self-confidence and a sense of accomplishment.

Muslim Students' Association

- Club Description:

The Muslim Students' Association of the University of Alberta was founded in 1982 to satisfy the spiritual, material, and social needs of students on campus in accordance with the teachings of Islam. Nepalese Scholars' Association of University of Alberta

- Club Description:

Nepalese Scholars' Association (NESA) of the University of Alberta, is aimed at serving as a bridge to provide a guide to the potential Nepalese scholars. NESA brings the Graduate/Undergraduate Students, Post Doctoral Fellows and Staffs of Nepalese origin together; majority being the graduate students. In recent years, the U of A has seen the rapid increase in the number of students and professionals of Nepalese origin; exceeding 30 from a hand full of people. Thus, NESA is a means of uniting these people under a formal body at U of A. We believe this will benefit its members as well as the whole university community. This organization strives to provide a common platform, where scholars under NESA, can bring the Edmonton community closer to Nepal and its diaspora through academic, social, outreach and cultural initiatives. NESA members have involved in a variety of volunteering activities through the Nepalese society in Edmonton, such as Radio Kathmandu at on-campus radio CJSR FM88.5, Heritage Festival, etc, to promote the Nepalese culture and heritage.

Network of Empowered Women

- Club Description:

Founded in January 2012 by female Bachelor of Commerce students, the Network of Empowered Women (NEW) is an undergraduate student group at the University of Alberta School of Business. NEW's primary focus is a four-day annual national conference taking place at the Fairmont Chateau Lake Louise in Banff National Park that brings together 100 student delegates from across Canada with inspiring leaders from a multitude of sectors in the Alberta and Canadian community. The conference consists of numerous keynote presentations, breakout and workshop sessions, networking/social events, delegate challenges, and much more.

NEW fosters open communication and discussion on topics of female empowerment, career and personal development, gender stereotypes, inequalities in the workplace and beyond, among others, while tackling big ideas like how these affect each individual, our world and how becoming more aware and empowered will lead to a better and more sustainable future.

In sum, the NSA exists as a social and academic support for its members, and is driven by a mandate of promoting a vibrant undergraduate Neuroscience community.

New Works Festival

- Club Description:

New Works is the University of Alberta's resident student-written and student-led theatre festival. Plays are written, selected, produced, and performed in-house at the U of A. Students are invited to submit plays that they have written for a chance to see these plays realized in a professional performance, in front of an audience, during the festival.

Playwrights are given special one on one sessions with established resident playwriting mentors at the U of A, with the goal of further developing their work during the rehearsal process. Plays that aren't selected for our mainstage productions may be chosen for the in-development program, where they are given the opportunity to be further workshopped with U of A mentors, culminating in a series of staged readings which occur during the festival run.

Directors and design teams are selected from student applicants including sound, lighting, props, and set design for the festival as a whole as well as stage management teams for each individual show. Auditions for actors are held on-site and directors are given access to a wide range of resources to assist their work moving into the rehearsal process and performance. All roles within the creative team get the opportunity to receive mentorship from professionals in their fields to help them learn and hone their craft.

The New Works Festival is about mentorship and fostering professional creative opportunities for students at the U of A. Stay tuned for more and get ready for all the amazing talent we have to showcase! See you at the festival.

Oncology Graduate Students' Association

- Club Description:

The Oncology Graduate Students' Association (OGSA) exists to serve and enrich the lives of the graduate student body at the University of Alberta's Department of Oncology.

Our mission is to enhance our members' graduate student experience. We aim to organize academic and social events that will provide unique and enriching opportunities for networking, professional development, career exploration, and community engagement. These events will also seek to cultivate camaraderie and facilitate the creation of a diverse academic community of scholars and leaders. In addition, we serve to advocate on behalf of our student collective as liaison to University of Alberta, government, and community entities, including the Department of Oncology, the Graduate Students' Association (GSA), and the Faculty of Graduate Studies and Research (FGSR). To this end, the OGSA invites its members to share their thoughts, ideas, and concerns so that together, we may continue to improve upon our members' graduate student experience.

The OGSA's ultimate vision is to promote collaboration and lasting academic fellowship for graduate students in the Department of Oncology. We believe that our academic and social environments, leadership in the local community, and strength as a collective must be proactively maintained. Thus, we aim to foster an active, friendly, and socially responsible community. Our hope is that these efforts enable students to maximize the enjoyment and benefit of their academic pursuits.

Outrun the Stigma

- Club Description:

Outrun the Stigma is looking for committee members for our May 2024 Event!

Outrun the Stigma Mission and History

Outrun the Stigma aims to contribute to reducing the stigma surrounding mental health that prevents people from expressing their authentic selves, discussing their experiences, seeking support, and feeling a sense of belonging into their community. Outrun the Stigma began at the University of Calgary when a group of students identified a gap in the running culture for runs that support mental health issues. As running events assume an important role in garnering attention, resources, and public support for health issues, Outrun the Stigma organizes an annual 5km walk/run and 10km run by the same name that brings community members together to discuss mental health experiences, listen to a community speaker share their mental health experience, connect community members with mental health resources, and support local mental health services. Since October 2013, Outrun the Stigma has organized four annual events, each bringing together over 350 students, community members, and volunteers and raising over $215,000 for local charities. Beyond the annual run, Outrun the Stigma aims to facilitate yearlong dialogue and activities that address mental health stigma through partnership with community organizations, universities, and grassroots initiatives.

Our Future

Outrun the Stigma is expanding our run and other initiatives to campuses and communities across Canada, with our newest chapter being Outrun the Stigma Edmonton (2017)! Our goal is to reduce the stigma associated with mental health by bringing communities together to share mental health stories, connect with mental health resources, raise funds to support local mental health services, and elevate mental health awareness.

Pakistani Students Association

- Club Description:

The mission of the Pakistani Student's Association is to build unforgettable experiences with the aim to spread diversity and increase inclusivity among the students of the University of Alberta. We pride ourselves in building a sense of community for the Pakistani students and using this community to further express and share our lively culture with people of different views and backgrounds.

Our events are geared towards creating an atmosphere that builds long-lasting relationships and memories while also encouraging students to learn about the values and beliefs that makes someone a Pakistani. We have done so by hosting various sporting, social and musical events such as the Qawwali night, the PSA All-stars Cricket tournament and the Jeeto-Pakistan Games Night just to name a few.

We hope to continue to build a platform that exuberates inclusivity, acceptance and friendliness all the while aiming to enrich and inspire the students at the University of Alberta through providing unique experiences that aid the personal and communal development of our members and anyone who walks through our doors.

PCOS student association

- Club Description:

A group committed to educating people about PCOS and providing advice on how to lead a healthy lifestyle while dealing with the condition. A significant hormonal imbalance brought on by PCOS can result in mood swings and loss of motivation, which can be difficult for others to comprehend. The goal of this club is to give everyone going through it a sense of belonging and reassurance that they are not alone. Not many individuals are aware of PCOS, a disorder. Many girls have it without even realising it. The goal of the initiative is to raise awareness of it and provide information about its symptoms. The club holds weekly meetings to discuss campaigns and ways to raise awareness as well as to offer assistance on a mental and physical level, including useful physical exercises and a smart approach to adjust your diet for PCOS

Pediatrics Graduate Students' Association

- Club Description:

PedsCases

- Club Description:

PedsCases is Pediatrics for Medical Students! The goal of PedsCases is to develop a comprehensive educational tool that focuses on the core objectives of undergraduate pediatric education. Our website offers students multiple learning modalities ranging from podcasts to notes. Content is developed by medical students in partnership with pediatricians or other health professionals with expertise on the topic to ensure it covers key learning objectives. The content is freely available online at PedsCases.com and through iTunes. PedsCases has been integrated into the third year undergraduate pediatric medical education curriculum at the University of Alberta in Edmonton, Alberta, Canada. It is one of the main sources recommended to students to cover the core objectives of the clinical pediatric rotation and to assist in preparing for the final examinations.

Peer Support Centre

- Club Description:

The Peer Support Centre offers the University community a place to talk to someone for support. The Peer Support Centre has provided students and staff with information, referrals, crisis intervention, and a completely confidential place to talk since 1969. Our student volunteers receive extensive training in supportive listening, communication, and referral skills. They are here to listen objectively and empathetically, and will never judge. Instead of offering advice, volunteers will help you clarify your problem and uncover your own resources and solutions. Volunteers are also familiar with various on and off campus organizations that can provide additional professional support.

The PSC is a great place to go to talk, and is also a great place to help your fellow students. The Peer Support Centre runs a training class every September, and provides their volunteers with sessions on suicide prevention, crisis intervention, supportive listening, and much more. If you are interested in learning more about the PSC's volunteer opportunities, check out our website.

We are open Monday to Friday, from 9am to 8pm and we are located at SUB 2-707.

Right now, we are currently operating virtually! You can book a virtual appointment or visit our Zoom drop-in.

Phi Delta Theta Alberta Alpha

- Club Description:

Phi Delta Theta was founded in 1848 under the leadership of six undergraduate students at Miami University in Oxford, Ohio. The Fraternity was founded under the guiding ideals of friendship, the cultivation of higher learning, and the preservation of the moral compass.

An important event leading up to the founding of Phi Delta Theta was the Great Snowball Rebellion of 1848. Until this point all fraternities and similar associations of like minded students had been forbidden. The students of Miami University, some of whom were to be the founders of Phi Delta Theta, determined that the refusal of the administration to allow young men to form fraternities was an unacceptable oppression. They decided that their personal freedoms and values were more important than the arbitrary moral rules imposed upon them by the administration, and in an act of rebellion blockaded the university administration building with barriers of snow. As a result all those deemed responsible were expelled from the university.

Those that had survived the purge of students from the university continued to fight for their right to associate with whomever they choose and as a result Phi Delta Theta was founded on the day after Christmas, 1848. From there the Fraternity would continue to grow across the United States, entering into Canada at McGill University in 1901.

As the Fraternity continued to grow, the Alberta Alpha chapter was established at the University of Alberta in Edmonton in 1930. This was to be the very first fraternity on campus and opened the door for the many other Greek societies that would establish themselves and benefit both the campus and the student body for decades to come. In the 87 years since its founding, Alberta Alpha has initiated nearly 1200 members and continues to grow and play an active role on campus.

The Alberta Alpha chapter follows the example set by the six Founding Fathers and continues to encourage open mindedness, friendship, brotherhood, the pursuit of higher education, and sound moral rectitude. These ideals that our Founding Fathers fought for in the face of expulsion are not taken for granted and they continue to live on in the brothers of Phi Delta Theta.

Phi Gamma Delta

- Club Description:

The Epsilon Alpha chapter of the International Fraternity of Phi Gamma Delta (or FIJI for short) is a fraternal organization built on the pillars of Friendship, Knowledge, Service, Morality, and Excellence. Political Science Graduate Student Association

- Club Description:

The PSGSA is dedicated to representing and strengthening the community of graduate students in the Department of Political Science. To that end, we actively work with faculty, staff, the GSA, and university administrators to ensure that graduate students are well represented and have access to social events, mentorship, professional development and feedback opportunities. We are committed to providing graduate students with everything that they need to ensure they have every opportunity to meet their goals in learning, teaching, and research, as well as their overall health and wellbeing.

Political Science Undergraduate Association

- Club Description:

The Political Science Undergraduate Association (PSUA) is a non-partisan, registered, not-for-profit student organization and is an integral part of the Political Science department at the University of Alberta.

Our mission is to provide opportunities for student involvement and to act as a liaison between the Political Science department and all political science students. In addition, the PSUA organizes a number of social and extra-curricular activities which provide excellent opportunities to interact with faculty members and other political science students.

All current undergraduates who have taken a University of Alberta political science course within the last year are considered members of the PSUA.

Power to Change

- Club Description:

Looking for a place to belong on campus? Come and join us at Power to Change!

We're a community that desires to love God, love each other and love our neighbour as one of several Christian clubs at the U of A. We gather regularly to share experiences in God's word, consider how we can serve our neighbours together and celebrate all that God is doing. We also host small groups which are safe spaces where everyone belongs, life can be shared, and each person is challenged to take their next steps with Jesus. And there are always other events and activities going on! As a community we are most active on our Discord server. You can find more information by visiting our welcome page or our Linktree, or visiting our Instagram account. Feel free to send us a message on any of those platforms if you have any questions. Thanks for checking us out!

Powerlifting Club

- Club Description:

The University of Alberta Powerlifting Association (UAPA) was established to encourage individuals interested in pursuing powerlifting either for competition or for developing general fitness. The sport of powerlifting consists of three lifts: squat, bench press, and deadlift. The overall purpose of this sport is to test maximal strength for the body as a whole. The Club has a beautiful facility located in the Hanson Fitness and Lifestyle Centre where they hold regular training sessions. Each year, the Club hosts the Power Surge competition as well.

Powwow dance club

- Club Description:

The main goal of the powwow club will be for Indigenous Students who want to practice and perfect their powwow dancing. The group is open to brand-new or current dancers, and to individuals who want to learn about or appreciate cultural dancing. Powwow dance club aims to be a safe place for students to gather and practice on campus in a judgment-free zone. As powwow dancing is part of the Indigenous culture, it is essential for us to have a group explicitly devoted to and focused on this practice. Along with the dancing aspects of the powwow dance club, we will have an emphasis on preparing Indigenous regalia. As many Indigenous students at the UofA are reconnecting to their culture it is important we provide support to one another in preparing dance regalia.

Pre-Medical Students' Association

- Club Description:

Welcome to the Pre-Medical Students' Association!

If you haven't already done so, please join our mailing list by clicking here to receive the latest information about events, seminars, opportunities and other exciting offers.

Founded in 2005, the Pre-Medical Students' Association (PMSA) at the University of Alberta was designed to support students intending to enter a career in the medical field. It is founded upon strong principles of teamwork, cooperation, innovation, focus, and integrity. Please be advised that the PMSA is not affiliated with and is in no way representing the University of Alberta Faculty of Medicine & Dentistry.

The PMSA will serve as a resource for academic and non-academic information and guidance for students interested in applying to medical school. PMSA will also serve as a support network to promote well-being in academic life, as well as in general lifestyle and attitude. There are no requirements to join our club--we welcome everyone!

The PMSA Executive Team stays after each event to answer any questions you may have about courses, medical school admissions, etc., so please don't hesitate to talk to us! You can also DM us on our social media pages with any questions, suggestions, or comments you may have. We promote a collaborative environment and encourage all of our members to support one-another with the medical school admissions process. We look forward to meeting with all of our members and wish you the best for the academic year!

Project Red In Support Of Red Cross

- Club Description:

This club would be an extension of our local Red Cross unit, primarily focused on holding fundraisers, informational events and activities within the university campus.

We aim to enlighten and inspire youth on international and domestic humanitarian issues, simultaneously advocating the prevention of violence and promoting peaceful coexistence in society. This club helps Red Cross target a new audience and exposes them to new perspectives to create a strong community to support and provide aid for individuals facing adversity. We strive towards our goal by hosting events like information booths at popular university events and creating engaging and innovative activities such as an array of fundraisers. We also grasp the community's attention by creating various media like information flyers, posters and an active social media platform to gain publicity.

Psychiatry Graduate Students' Association

- Club Description:

There is a palpable need in the department of psychiatry for an organized student group to connect the graduate students to each other and to further integrate us into the University community. In the wake of the COVID-19 pandemic, most meetings have moved and stayed on ZOOM, and many graduate students in the department still work from home or on their own. This has created a great divide between the students and limited our opportunities for meaningful connections. The aim of PGSA is to bridge this gap and in turn improve the mental health of the graduate students as well as facilitate the acclimation of new students joining the program. We will begin to do this by organizing monthly events that allow for socialization and networking.

Run for Support and Health

- Club Description:

Run for Support and Health (RUSH) is a student group at the University of Alberta aimed to support and fundraise for charity through participation or organization of charitable runs, to promote general health through exercise in a fun encouraging environment and to provide an opportunity to meet and foster close friendship. The group firmly believes that a healthy body fosters a healthy mind and regular exercise will help deal with the stressful lives as a university student.

Activities hosted by RUSH include weekly group runs (free), participation in charitable runs, fundraising events, volunteer opportunities, and social gatherings. RUSH exists as a social and charitable support in addition to the opportunity to exercise in a group environment and is driven by a mandate of promoting a healthy lifestyle while giving back to the community in a meaningful way.

RUSH also hosts the PLAY (Physical Literacy for Active Youth) program, where University volunteers lead various schools and daycare centres in physical activity. The goal of the program is to provide children with lessons on physical literacy while giving them a social opportunity to interact with more experienced adults to promote both their physical and mental health.

The weekly running schedule on-campus Fall 2023 (free):

TBD

*All runs are ~ 40 min long depending on participants and the weather. We always meet inside VVC, next to the entrance facing SUB lounge.

Runnymede Society University of Alberta Chapter

- Club Description:

2015 marked the 800th anniversary of the signing of Magna Carta, a document from which the concept of the rule of law is, in part, thought to originate. King John sealed the document in a clearing by the Thames River in the English county of Surrey, about 30 km west of central London, in a meadow called Runnymede.

This year in Canada the Runnymede Society was founded. It is a student membership organization dedicated to exploring the ideas and ideals of the rule of law, constitutionalism and individual liberty. It seeks to foster intellectual diversity, rigour, and dialogue in Canadian law schools. It aims to provide outstanding support and opportunities for intellectual enrichment, networking and professional development.

Safewalk

- Club Description:

Safewalk provides a safe alternative to walking alone at night around the campus community and beyond. Safewalk was created not as a reaction to crime but as a proactive step to build the safest possible campus community.

Safewalk is free of charge and is available to any member of the surrounding community - undergrads, graduate students, staff, faculty, and members of the public are all welcome. Whether you don't like to walk alone after dark, or would just like some company on your trip, give us a call!

To use Safewalk, call 780-4- WALK-ME (780-492-5563). A two person team will meet and walk with you anywhere within the Safewalk boundaries (check our website for information).

Safewalk also offers students an opportunity to get involved on campus, as there are a number of volunteer opportunities available throughout the year. So if you like walking and would enjoy helping your fellow students, visit our website to check to see when our next recruitment drive is running!

School of Public Health Students' Association

- Club Description:

The School of Public Health Students' Association (SPHSA) exists to serve, represent, and advocate on behalf of the students of the School of Public Health at the University of Alberta.

The SPHSA formally represents students to the School of Public Health and the Centre for Health Promotion Studies. The SPHSA also serves as a liaison between students and the School of Public Health Alumni Chapter (SPHAC), the University of Alberta Graduate Students' Association (GSA), the University of Alberta, and the greater community.

The SPHSA serves students by providing opportunities for academic and social engagement through the hosting of events and coordinating of student activities. Such events include a strong involvement in new student orientation, an annual wine and cheese event for students to interact with public health professionals, fundraisers for important public health causes, and a variety of informal social gatherings.

All students in the School of Public Health are members of the SPHSA. The SPHSA Executive is elected at an Annual General Meeting, typically held in late November or early December, during which voting and nominations are open to all students. The SPHSA Executive terms generally follow the calendar year, from January to December. Check out the link to our website to meet our council members:

Science FUNdamentals Foundation of Alberta

- Club Description:

By presenting science in an engaging and creative manner, Science FUNdamentals encourages youth to approach their education with curiosity, imagination and enthusiasm. Our in-school interactive demonstrations and annual science exhibition exposes youth to elements of science that they may not otherwise encounter in their elementary school education and reinforces concepts that they have already learned. Science FUNdamentals teaches students about the relevance of science in the everyday world and shows them that science can be fun and exciting. Our goal as an organization is to make learning in general a positive experience, and thus to encourage kids to pursue an education in their longterm future, with science simply being our platform for doing so.

Sri Lankan Student Association - University of Alberta

- Club Description:

The primary objective of this organization is to form a recognizable platform that connects Sri Lankan students and alumni of the University of Alberta. Also, we are looking forward to being an organization that can help current and new students to socialize and feel the warmth of a familiar cultural environment.

The Canadian culture is welcoming and supportive. But it is different from the Sri Lankan culture. Hence educating and supporting new students to overcome that cultural shock and make sure that they can steer and groom in the university environment with the support of current Sri Lankan students will be over the first target.

Also, Sri Lanka is a culturally rich country. Hence we are also looking forward to sharing our cultural significance, and beauty of the our island nation with the UOA student community through different events and sessions.

Start2Finish Running & Reading Club on Campus

- Club Description:

The Running & Reading Club combines our interests in physical activity and literacy for a greater cause: helping low income youth in inner-city Edmonton. This initiative has an impact on every student in the club! For University students, we provide weekly volunteer activities, learning resources and seminar opportunities, and the ability to impact a child's life as a role-model. For elementary students, we provide a safe space for growth by increasing their physical, mental, social-emotional, and academic well-being.

Join us in making a difference in the community while having fun each week!

Stollery Youth Committee

- Club Description:

The Stollery Youth Committee (SYC) is a student group that serves to fundraise for and educate on the needs of the Stollery Children's Hospital. For this reason, the SYC is actively involved in many events on campus from bake sales to large social events. Volunteers will have the opportunity to participate in numerous events with the Stollery Children's Hospital Foundation and at the hospital.

The SYC also works within the community to build connections with local businesses and to recruit and mentor new students.

Additionally, the SYC is recognized by the Stollery Children's Hospital Foundation as a student-run committee that acts as a Community Initiative to raise funds and awareness.

Student Parents on Campus

- Club Description:

Student Parents on Campus (SPOC) is a family-friendly student group at the University of Alberta aiming to relieve some of the stress and obstacles students who parent live with by creating a community where they can meet, share stories and seek support.

SPOC will work towards offering tangible help for student parents such as study breaks, financial workshops, family events, clothing and toy swaps, and cooking sessions.

Our events and services are for all students at the U of A of all academic levels (undergraduate, graduate, PhD, part-time/full-time, open studies and international students etc). Children are of course welcome to our events and meetings.

Student Success Centre

- Club Description:

We provide professional support to help students strengthen their academic skills and achieve their academic goals – and want all students to succeed at university!

If you have questions about how to tackle a paper, report, or exam, how to study or take notes, how to present calmly and effectively, how to plan your term, or manage a course project, thesis, or dissertation, we're here to help! We meet with students one-on-one in individual appointments, and run group workshops throughout the year. We also offer customized services both on and off campus. Whatever your program or situation, we can help.

We work with pre-university, undergraduate, graduate and post-doctoral students, international students, parents, and university instructors and advisors to maximize students' success at all levels of achievement and study.

Pre-registration is required for all workshops and individual consultations. Register in person at 1-80 Students' Union Building or by phone at (780)492-2682.

Student Volunteer Campus Community

- Club Description:

When SVCC was originally founded by the late Father Firth and Rita Chow, it was composed solely of an English Language Group intended for new immigrants from Vietnam. At that time, SVCC was known as "SVCC for Refugees" and sessions were held at St. Joseph's College (a small college located on campus). When the English Language Group grew in size to five sessions, SVCC moved over to the Education Building to accommodate the expansion, and continues to operate there to this day.

The objectives of SVCC are:

SVCC is typically offers 7 different language sessions in three different levels: English, French, Spanish, Cantonese, Mandarin, Japanese, & Korean. Sessions are conducted in 3 semesters a year, 11 weekly sessions a semester. Sessions are held on Saturday mornings from 10:00 AM to 12:00 PM MST on the University of Alberta campus, in the Education Building.

If you would like to register for a language group please have a look at the latest post on our Facebook page!

Students for Equity, Diversity, and Inclusivity within Healthcare

- Club Description:

Students for Equity, Diversity, and Inclusivity within Healthcare aims to promote safe spaces within healthcare systems for marginalized and vulnerable populations such as Black, Indigenous, People of Colour, the LGBTQ2S+ community, disabled persons, and those affected by trauma. This is a student-led initiative that intends to raise awareness on equity, diversity, and inclusivity issues in health systems, within the University of Alberta community, through community involvement and advocacy

Students for Equity, Diversity, and Inclusivity within Healthcare operates from a feminist, trauma-informed, anti-oppressive, and intersectionalist perspective. We value:

1. Accountability. Responsibility for actions and consequences, with honesty and integrity, and a commitment to continual learning and growth.
2. Collaboration. Partnership, cooperation, trust, and unity in all efforts, in community with one another.
3. Respect. Dignity, kindness, and appreciation exist in our interactions with others.

Students for Equity, Diversity, and Inclusivity within Healthcare aims to raise awareness on equity, diversity, and inclusivity issues in health systems through community involvement and advocacy within the University of Alberta community. The objectives of the group's operations are to:

1. To raise awareness within the University of Alberta community (i.e., students, faculty, staff, and alumni) on the importance of equity, diversity, and inclusivity within health systems.
2. To empower students, faculty, staff, and alumni to speak on their experiences with equity, diversity, and inclusivity issues within health systems.
3. To advocate for equity, diversity, and inclusivity measures within the University of Alberta community, and the health systems we interact with.

Students for Habitat

- Club Description:

Students for Habitat is an official affiliate of Habitat for Humanity Edmonton. Our main goal is to empower those in need by helping families build strength, stability, and independence through affordable home ownership. SFH aims to bring together passionate leaders from the University of Alberta in order to eliminate barriers to financial stability for Edmonton's most vulnerable demographics. Proceeds derived from fundraising events will be donated towards Habitat for Humanity Edmonton and the promotion of reduced child poverty and homelessness in the Greater Edmonton area.

Students for Literacy

- Club Description:

The purpose of Students For Literacy is to promote and encourage literacy in the lives of people, primarily children, who struggle with reading or writing in English. We believe literacy is an essential tool and a fundamental right in life. Those with low literacy skills are directly linked to poverty, poor health, and high unemployment. Today, tens of thousands of Canadian adults still have trouble with everyday tasks that involve reading. It is our goal to help fix that.

Students for Machine Learning in Business

- Club Description:

Students for Machine Learning in Business is an open, multi-disciplinary group of UAlberta students dedicated to discussion, research and implementation of machine learning methods in applications of business and entrepreneurship. Artificial Intelligence is transforming our lives and economy. With SMLB, we intend for individuals of a wide breadth of backgrounds and skill levels to learn and practice training and testing machine learning algorithms, and consider their applications in the fields of marketing, finance, accounting, strategic management and operations, entrepreneurship and more. We aim to create a community for learning by holding machine learning challenges for members to compete in. Register on our website!

Students for Wishes University of Alberta

- Club Description:

The group shall operate for the purpose of raising awareness and funds for Make-A-Wish Canada within the campus community. We provide students with an opportunity to be engaged philanthropically in their community and gain valuable work and team experience. All proceeds raised by these initiatives go directly to Make-A-Wish Northern Alberta to grant wishes of children living with critical illnesses, after covering overhead and event costs of the student group.

Special Education; (iv) Teaching English as a Second Language; and (v) Technology in Education Specialization. The SEP GSA is committed to working collaboratively with faculty, administration, and graduate students within the Department to ensure that current and future graduate students are fully supported throughout their studies. Each year, the SEP GSA will focus on four areas of support for graduate students in the five programs outlined above in the Department of Educational Psychology. These areas include, but are not limited to:

Students Invested in Health Association

- Club Description:

The Students Invested in Health Association (SIHA) is a student-run non-profit organization that was founded in 1989. SIHA's mission is to transform primary health care philosophy into action by creating sustainable projects both locally within Edmonton and other Alberta regions and internationally in Tanzania, East Africa.

From its inception, SIHA's projects have been based on the "Health for All" slogan promoted by the 1978 International Conference on Primary Health Care in Alma-Ata. SIHA's values are based on the ideals of universal healthcare, including the principles of sustainable, community-based programming, and the interdisciplinary nature of primary health.

As such, SIHA creates and implements projects according to community directed collaboration, sustainable programming involving local ownership and partnership, and multi-sectoral action. By extension, the primary avenues through which SIHA has chosen to focus most of its efforts involve engaging in meaningful partnerships, fostering reciprocal education and co-learning about the social, economic and political components of primary health care, and supporting skills that are essential to health care organization and community building.

Through developing relationships with individuals and organizations committed to social change, engaging in health education, and promoting local capacity, SIHA supports grassroots change and the sustainable improvement of health.

If you are interested in applying for membership please go to siha.ca and find our various local, international, and executive/leadership membership positions available. Or email us at siha@ualberta.ca to ask about how you can involved.

Sustainable Development Goals Alliance

- Club Description:

The organization is founded on the principle that climate action is one part of a larger fight for sustainability. We may not see sustainability in engineering, teaching, healthcare or in justice systems and governments, but it is there and all of it is involved in building a better future for tomorrow. The United Nations released the Sustainable Development Goals in 2015 in an effort to unite sustainability initiatives around particular goals that were deemed most important. Today many universities across Canada have their own SDG Alliances where SDG related efforts are nurtured but the University of Alberta does not officially have one. The SDG related events and initiatives that are held across Canada through SDG Alliances as a result exclude the University of Alberta. However we are looking to change that by bringing more sustainability themed workshops through our partnership with Edmonton Unlimited and more sustainability in already existing events such as Together | Ensemble 2023 and I Week through our partnership with the Sustainability Council and U of A Global Education. Our main purpose as an organization is to facilitate the adoption of the SDGs and to help the U of A community find ways to integrate the SDGs in a way that addresses the sustainability needs in their fields. Sustainability is a large initiative to take on and the key to progress in sustainability and in the SDGs is unity. Coming together as a group to then unite our campus community around the SDGs is what we hope to achieve.

TeamUP Science

- Club Description:

Our mandate is to cultivate scientific imagination, curiosity and leadership abilities of youths, especially those who are under-represented (Indigenous, Socially Vulnerable, and Rural), in the field of science, technology, engineering and mathematics (STEM) by providing innovative hands-on learning, guided mentorship and interactive networking.

We work with post-secondary institutions and community science groups to centralize resources and build unique approaches to science learning. Through our programs, youths engage with mentor scientists who will provide guidance towards advanced education in Science and Technology.

TeamUP Science hosts various STEM competitions including the Interdisciplinary Science Competition (ISC) for high school students across Alberta for junior high and high school students across Canada. We also host Youth STEAM Innovation Challenge (YSIC) for junior high students, and Health Sciences, Engineering, and Computer Science Workshops for students of all ages to learn about these specific STEM fields. Last but not least, we put on a weekly, after-school science program for Junior High students in low-income schools through our Youth Science Innovate Program (YSIP).

TEDxUAlberta

- Club Description:

TEDxUAlberta brings together leading thinkers and doers to share ideas that matter in any discipline - technology, entertainment, design, science, humanities, business, development. In the spirit of “ideas worth spreading,” we combine a panel of speakers and TED Talks videos in order to spark deep discussion and connections. We hope for TEDx to become a local forum for ideas within the community, and that this will inspire people to change their lives, their futures, and ultimately their world.

TEDxUAlberta is currently recruiting for the 2023-24 school year! Click on the link below to apply.

TESL STUDENTS' GROUP

- Club Description:

The TESL Students' Group has two main goals: to enhance our members' experience at the U of A while they complete their program by connecting them with their peers and to enhance our members' knowledge of research in TESL and SLA (second language acquisition). These goals will be met through such activities as hosting TESL dinners/events, arranging TESL talks, connecting members with resources such as conference travel grants, and announcing outside professional development opportunities, job opportunities, etc.

The Association of Korean Canadian Scientists and Engineers

- Club Description:

The Association of Korean Canadian Scientists and Engineers (AKCSE/약세) is a non-profit organization founded in 1986. Our goal is to provide a support network for students studying in science and engineering, as well as academic and leadership opportunities.

As an organization with chapters all over Canada, we wish to provide different opportunities for our members for involvement, leadership, service, and professional experience.

Please fill out this google form and follow our instagram to receive updates about our events and become involved in our club!

The Business Finance Association

- Club Description:

The BFA, formerly called the Investors Club, will show students that there is much more to the world of finance and economics than just investing. Our goal is to encourage students to explore the vast spectrum of finance disciplines and to empower them by providing them with the necessary resource and tools that will enable them to succeed in the finance arena. We look forward to the upcoming year's events and hope that students can enjoy the world of finance with the BFA.

The cafe club!

- Club Description:

University is overwhelming. The Cafe Club's proposed solution is to offer a bit of solace to those in need. Our mission is to promote mental well-being for students by creating accessible opportunities for community building and meaningful interpersonal connection. The Cafe Club aims to create a safe and inclusive environment for socializing with students from a wide variety of academic fields and backgrounds. We strive to build a sense of belonging on campus, one warm cafe drink at a time.

All are welcome here! There are absolutely no prerequisites to request a membership—except one. All that is required to join is to send a short email (a few sentences will do) about your motivation for joining!

The Child Advocacy Society of the University of Alberta

- Club Description:

The Child Advocacy Society at the University of Alberta (CASUA) firmly believes that student advocacy can play an important role in the social response to abuse. Our group will work in close partnership with the Zebra Child Protection Centre in a number of capacities with three overarching goals in mind:

1) Raise awareness and promote education on the topic of child abuse both within the university and in the wider community.

2) Carry out fundraising activities with the proceeds going to assist the efforts of Child Advocacy Centres and other organizations devoted towards promoting child welfare and combating abuse.

3) Connect interested students with volunteer and/or employment opportunities in the field of child advocacy and welfare.

We are committed to empowering our student members to grow and develop/use their unique talents and skills to help every child grow up free from abuse, but also to help those who have encountered abuse to get their story heard and access the services that child advocacy centres provide.

The Engineering Physics Club of the University of Alberta

- Club Description:

Engineering Physics Club

When asked to describe the Engineering Physics Club, many have drawn comparisons to the Justice League and the Avengers, if they were smarter, sexier, stronger, and less prone to violating the laws of physics. In all seriousness though, the Engineering Physics Club organizes awesome events for awesome Eng Phys students, and provides services for club members and other engineering students alike. The best part is if you're an Eng Phys, you're automatically a member!

So what is Engineering Physics, anyways?

Engineering Physics is a hybrid of Electrical Engineering, Honours Physics and Math. By combining practical and theoretical knowledge of engineering and physics, Eng Phys stays on the cutting edge of technology, including fields such as nanotechnology, advanced materials, photonics and MEMS to name a few. Engineering Physics is a multi-disciplinary program, and provides a broad knowledge base for undergraduates hoping to enter into industry or pursue graduate studies after earning their iron rings.

Alright then, but what services can the Engineering Physics Club provide me?

Well, my good engineer (I assume), if you like affordable food, beverages, and Red Bull, you are in for a treat. We have all those in the Eng Phys Phrydge! Those services are available to anybody who stops by, but if you're a super cool member of the Eng Phys Club you get some extra perks like social events, intramural sports teams, barbeques, and you get to go participate in Geer Week as part of the Eng Phys Club! Sounds pretty great, eh?

Gee Whillickers, that sounds super! How do I get in touch with the Eng Phys? Feel free to drop by our office MECE 5-8K in the clubs hallway on the top floor of the west tower of MECE and ask us any questions you have about Engineering, Physics or life in general.

The FentaNIL Project

- Club Description:

The FentaNIL Project is a student-run outreach-initiative founded in 2018 at the University of Alberta. The FentaNIL Project aims to mitigate the detrimental effects of the opioid crisis in Edmonton and other communities throughout Alberta by: raising awareness on fentanyl, unintentional drug overdose, and harm reduction through tabling booths, panel discussions and other related events; distributing comprehensive fentanyl care-packages and naloxone kits to at-risk individuals and students on campus; and by presenting free info-sessions on how to properly utilize naloxone kits.

The Games Den

- Club Description:

At The Games Den, members share a common ground and community glued together by a love for the artistic medium of games. Game devs both new and old will find mentorship, camaraderie and opportunity. We organize talks from professional developers and students alike, we host game jams and space for game development, and we also have fun playing video and board games together. The Games Den offers students a platform to showcase their work to the public and gain feedback for further growth. Here, we talk, make and play games.

Den meetings have moved onto our Discord (check out our website for more information). Sign up for our newsletter by emailing us!

The Interdepartmental Science Students' Society

- Club Description:

The Interdepartmental Science Students' Society (ISSS) is the official Faculty Association representing undergraduate Science students. They provide useful services like locker rentals and grad photos, host events such as instructor appreciation night and a science-specific orientation, and advocate on behalf of Science students. If you're a Science student looking to get involved and give back to students, come check us out at our office (CCIS 1-150), or email isss@ualberta.ca!

The Kidney Foundation of Canada University of Alberta Club

- Club Description:

We are a student club affiliated with the Kidney Foundation of Canada working towards raising money and awareness for the foundation and its causes. Throughout the year, we will hold events ranging from information sessions to fundraisers to fun events for University of Alberta students to engage with throughout the year. As a club, we will work together not only to plan these events but also to learn more about kidney disease together, so that we can share our knowledge with others.

The Last Alliance: University of Alberta Tolkien Student Group

- Club Description:

The purpose of The Last Alliance is manifold; we aim to meet and associate with those interested in Tolkien, and to learn more about the author, his written works, and his sources through discussion, guest lectures and academically-oriented activities. We also foster "sub-creation" and encourage creative output from our members, providing a platform for the sharing of story and song. Lastly, we aim to promote literacy, and particularly, appreciation of Fantasy, in the community.

The Last Alliance not only provides a friendly atmosphere for Tolkien-related literary discourse at the U of A and educates members about the works of J.R.R. Tolkien; we lend a unique flavour to campus and the community, and indeed are one of few Tolkien Societies country-wide. Members can look forward to casual events as well: board game nights, murder mysteries, and other activities that help build friendships on campus.

As of 2020 we have an official TLA Discord server which can be found here: Link to Discord

The Mu Theta Chapter of the Zeta Psi Fraternity

- Club Description:

Zeta Psi has a long and illustrious history at the University of Alberta as a fraternity that seeks to enrich the lives of its members beyond the traditional scope of university education. Zeta Psi has a long-standing commitment to build a brotherhood of men that strive for academic excellence, while seeking to build leadership and moral fiber in service of their communities. We seek to achieve these goals while remembering that university life represents something that should be enjoyed and celebrated.

The Nyantende Foundation

- Club Description:

The Nyantende Foundation works closely with local staff in the Democratic Republic of Congo to meet the ever-changing educational needs of the community and to foster collective development and growth. By providing the youth of Nyantende with an education, we aim to empower them with tools to create change in their communities and thereby encourage generational development.

The Organization for Arts Students and Interdisciplinary Studies

Welcome to OASIS, the Organization for Arts Students and Interdisciplinary Studies! We are the faculty association for the University of Alberta Faculty of Arts. If you're an undergraduate Arts student at the University of Alberta, you are a member of OASIS and our team is here to help you. We provide lockers, grants to Arts Students, events, and more. We also advocate on behalf of all Arts Students to the Faculty, the University, and the wider world.

The Poultry Research Centre Student Club

- Club Description:

The purpose of The Poultry Research Centre Student Club is to promote an environment for the interaction between student, faculty and staff and with other relevant parties in fields of poultry science. PRCSC shall engage in activities relating to social, academic, and professional interests in poultry science.

The Raising Hopes Student Initiative

- Club Description:

Raising Hopes strives to increase awareness at the UAlberta campus about the issues facing our Canadian health care system. We also support health care workers and patients through small acts of kindness - which include self-care baskets for staff and essentials for patient ER visits. To provide these appreciation items, we host events and fundraisers throughout the year. This year our current beneficiaries include the Misericordia Community Hospital and community pharmacies.

Therapeutic Music

- Club Description:

Therapeutic Music is a group of musically motivated young people who share their talents by playing in nursing homes. The group was originally founded as part of PhD research into the connection between music and brain development. Our mission is to improve the well-being of senior residents through music. In particular, we reach out to residents with dementia.

We currently put on performances twice a month for various nursing homes in the city, showcasing our diverse talents ranging from classical to pop to folk. Low-stress is everything we do in Therapeutic Music. Each member typically contributes 5-10 minutes every time and can perform as often as desired. This is ideal for students who want to maintain musical practice on top of a busy schedule!

Above all, Therapeutic Music is a great place to meet and mingle with other musically-motivated people!

We welcome new members at any point through Fall and Winter terms. Simply e-mail us at tmusic@ualberta.ca or visit our website at bit.ly/therapmusic to sign up and find out more!

U of A Ski and Snowboard Club

- Club Description:

What is the U of A Ski and Snowboard Club?

The University of Alberta Ski and Snowboard Club is one of the largest student clubs on campus. Founded by a couple of dedicated ski bums in 1962, we've come to represent anything and everything that has to do with skiing and snowboarding. We do what we can to make sure that our members are well taken care of--we host 3-5 ski trips each year, offer discounts and deals from our 40+ sponsors, and host social events on and off campus throughout the year. The Ski and Snowboard Club is all about keeping in touch with our members, so when we're not skiing, what we like to do is to party...and Ski Club is known for some of the most memorable parties a student will ever have.

Interested in joining the club?

We sell memberships at Clubs Fair during Week of Welcome. You can also join the club at our office in Education South b-64e throughout the year. It only costs $10 to become a member--each member receives a membership card giving them access to some pretty crazy deals from our bar, corporate, and mountain sponsors.

UA Chinese Bible Study Fellowship

- Club Description:

There are many Chinese students and scholars who are studying on campus of University of Alberta. We see there are needs to spread Biblical truth among them since many of them have never heard relevant information. Chinese Bible Study Fellowship is to assist mandarin-speaking students, scholars, and their family members to achieve successes in their academic studies and to guide their spiritual seeking by providing them weekly fellowship, discussions of the Bible and personal counseling.

Our group shall operate for the purpose of:

UAlberta Ambassador Program

- Club Description:

Welcome to the UAlberta Ambassador Program!

The UAlberta Ambassador Program is a part of Student Connect, in the Office of the Registrar. Each year, approximately 70 current UAlberta students volunteer with this program as Ambassadors for our institution. UAlberta Ambassadors lead campus tours and on-campus experiences for prospective students and their families, as well as teachers, counsellors, alumni, and the general public through the University of Alberta's Campus Visit Program. They also provide service triage and welcome guests to Student Connect and represent the University at various events on and off-campus such as Open House, The President's Society Dinner and Alumni Weekend.

Interested in joining the UAlberta Ambassador Team? Our recruitment takes place early in the winter semester (January/February) for the following year. Check uab.ca/represent for application information!

uAlberta Pokémon Club

- Club Description:

The uAlberta Pokémon Club (UPC) is a social club centered around the world's highest grossing media franchise, Pokémon. Our club fosters new friendships by uniting students with a common interest while providing a space to hangout, study, and participate in weekly events. We also dip into the competitive side of Pokémon with annual tournaments and leagues.

UAlberta Quizbowl Club

- Club Description:

For many former REACH members and Jeopardy wannabes across Edmonton and Canada, there are few alternatives for trivia competition in North America. This group aims to bring together people of all different backgrounds who enjoy academia, trivia and having fun. We hold two practices each week in CAB on Mondays and Fridays. Practices are very casual and we have developed our own house set of rules to make things more fun. No prior experience is needed to join our club. Newcomers and aficionados alike are both welcome to attend practices and tournaments that our club holds.

Most of the organization for our weekly practices, tournaments and club messages occurs on our club discord server. The server can be accessed via the following invite link: <https://discord.gg/3hD3MhrjNu>.

UAlberta Solar Car Club

- Club Description:

The UAlberta Solar Car Club is a multidisciplinary club with the aim of pushing the boundaries of renewable energy technology through the planning, designing, and manufacturing of unique, state-of-the-art solar-powered cars.

Our goal is to:

Join us by filling our Google Form!

UAlberta Venture Capital & Private Equity Club

- Club Description:

The VCPE Club seeks to bridge the gap between the Alberta School of Business (ASOB) and the burgeoning Alberta tech ecosystem through the lens of private market investment.

Venture Capital (VC) investment has grown at a seismic rate in Alberta. Catalyzed by talent, research, capital, and government support, we're approaching a golden age in our province's technology sector. Because of this, we anticipate that there will be job opportunities within the private finance space in the coming years for new grads. This funding growth also has secondary effects – entrepreneurs have and will continue to flock to the Prairies to build new startups, many of whom will use ASOB as a launchpad to begin their careers. As it stands, we feel that no student group acts as a bridge between the Alberta tech scene and student body. We aim to equip students with the skills, knowledge, and network to understand the fundamentals of startup investing as an investor, founder, or employee of Alberta startups. This student group runs hand-in-hand with the new 'Private Venture Finance' program at ASOB, headed by Dr. András Marosi. Professor Marosi will act as our faculty supervisor. While the new finance program serves to educate students on the fundamentals of private market finance, we aim to act as a bridge between the community and university – allowing students to build their networks, put theory into practice, and become inspired to build in Alberta.

Ukrainian Students' Society

- Club Description:

Since 1954, the Ukrainian Students' Society at the University of Alberta has endeavored to uphold and promote Ukrainian culture by collaborating with student groups across campus, our city, in Alberta, and across Canada! We strive to network with Ukrainian community organizations, businesses, and associations. This allows us to inform our club members about all issues and relevant events, and to support students with and without a Ukrainian background! With a variety of cultural, political, and student life events, our membership of over 150 experiences campus life with a Ukrainian twist, and now you can be a part of all the action!

Тут ви знайдете близьких вам по душі і серці людей і матимете нагоду навести нові знайомства, почути рідну мову, поспілкуватися на різноманітні теми, поділитися останніми новинами, ну і звичайно погуляти на славу ;). В новому навчальному році на нас чекає багато пригод так що залишайтеся з нами і частіше заглядайте на нашу сторіночку.

Ultimate Club

- Club Description:

Welcome to the University of Alberta Ultimate Club (aka UAU)! Ultimate is a young sport but a great one to get into in university. We run practices throughout the fall and winter semesters designed to both introduce new players to the sport and help experienced players hone their skills.

Undergraduate Artificial Intelligence Society

- Club Description:

The Undergraduate Artificial Intelligence Society is a new student group on campus. We hope to provide a supportive community for students interested in learning AI. We'll learn the basic tools to begin programming an artificial intelligence system including neural networks and reinforcement learning and then apply them to projects. These projects will be team collaborative efforts, with students learning how to work on a team with leadership roles and using version control systems. As there are many diverse subfields in artificial intelligence, it's important to respect unique perspectives. No matter if you're a beginner or expert, there's a place for you. If you are interested, go to our website and become a member! We also highly encourage to join our slack and subscribe to our mailing list.

Undergraduate Association of Computing Science

Undergraduate Cell Biology Students' Association

- Club Description:

The Undergraduate Cell Biology Students' Association is a student-run organization to provide a sense of community and support to current and prospective students pursuing a degree in Cell Biology. Throughout the year, we organize many events including, the Undergraduate Research Recruitment Night, Undergraduate Research Seminar, and organize social events to aid Cell Biology students in their University journey.

Undergraduate Linguistics Association

- Club Description:

The Undergraduate Linguistics Association is the university's association for language and linguistics enthusiasts. We provide community, events, and academic supports for all who are interested in the study of language.

The Undergraduate Linguistics Association: What do we do?

- The ULA offers Help Desk during Fall and Winter semesters to help serve students in 100 or 200 level Linguistics courses with any questions or concerns about their courses. Please stay tuned for updated times.

- We represent you at Faculty meetings and are here to be your voice for any concerns you have related to the Linguistics program.

- We're here to discuss, learn, and engage with anyone interested in languages or linguistics.

The purpose of the ULA is to help foster relationships that will not only serve students personally, but also professionally. Your fellow association members are not simply your peers: some will become your friends or colleagues. In this way, the ULA acts as a social network for budding linguists, speech-language pathologists, documentarians, anthropologists, and more. Social events, including interclub mixers will be held through out the year to provide students a chance to meet people with whom they may share their interests and goals.

We also serve as the Departmental Association of the University of Alberta Department of Linguistics, housed in Assiniboia Hall. This means that the ULA is responsible for selecting representatives for department committees and liaising between the undergraduate student body and the department. Additional affiliations include: the University of Alberta, the U of A Students' Union, and the Organization for Arts Students and Interdisciplinary Studies (through the Council of Departmental Associations).

The current executive committee of the Undergraduate Linguistics Association consists of:

Katie Tjelum -- VP Operations

Elizabeth Wood -- VP Academic

Nayeon Kim -- VP Finance

Esher Grewal -- VP Communications

Maryam Khan -- VP Social

Zainab Hussain -- Undergraduate Representative

Undergraduate Physiology Students' Association

- Club Description:

The UPSA is a student-run organization dedicated to promoting unity and enthusiasm among current and prospective Physiology students. We provide academic support in the form of seminars and peer assisted learning, coordinate lab tours for students to learn about the research of Physiology professors, and organize social events such as undergraduate student mixers.

Undergraduate Psychology Association

- Club Description:

The Undergraduate Psychology Association, or UPA, is designed to promote the study of psychology, assist students with their academic endeavors, encourage social interaction between people interested in psychology, connect members to vocational and volunteering opportunities, as well as provide other services to meet students' needs such as merchandise and mentorship.

Undergraduate Research Initiative

- Club Description:

The Undergraduate Research Initiative (URI) supports the involvement of University of Alberta undergraduate students in research activities.

The URI has five main functions:

PLEASE NOTE: Up-to-date information about URI events and services can be found on our website: www.uri.ualberta.ca. Our BearsDen page is not routinely updated, and our website is the best source of current information for students. The Undergraduate Research Initiative is a university department (within the Dean of Students' Portfolio), not a student group.

University Athletics Board

- Club Description:

The University Athletics Board (UAB) is made up of student-athletes to represent student-athletes at the historic University of Alberta in Edmonton. The board has three goals that focus on enriching the varsity experience during the school year:

- 1) Enhancing the student-athlete experience
- 2) Advocating and representing student-athletes within the athletics department
- 3) Expanding the role of athletes beyond the confines of the university

The SAB is composed of one student-athlete representative from each varsity team and executive members who provide direction for the board. Their mission is to improve the depth of the varsity experience, give back to the community, and represent student-athletes to the campus population at large. Simply put "Athletes Supporting Athletes". Striving for excellence at the University of Alberta is always a challenging task, yet the reward outweighs the effort, especially when it comes to developing a stronger, more connected, and philanthropic body of student-athletes.

The charitable focus of the SAB offers student-athletes opportunities to give back to the community. Some of the events include: Stollery Children's Hospital visits, Edmonton food bank drives, charitable puck toss events; and Read-In Weeks at various schools throughout Edmonton. Among the organizations the UAB works with are Kidsport, an organization that gives all children an opportunity to participate in organized sport, as well as various Community outreach programs that focus on connecting athletes to the wider community.

University Bible Fellowship

- Club Description:

The University Bible Fellowship (UBF) is a non-denominational, Christian evangelistic campus organization focused on raising disciples of Jesus who can live for the gospel of Jesus Christ. For this purpose, UBF teaches the Bible to campus students and helps them to live according to the teachings of the Scriptures and to practice the world mission command of Jesus based on Acts 1:8, "But you will receive power when the Holy Spirit comes on you; and you will be my witnesses in Jerusalem, and in all Judea and Samaria, and to the ends of the earth."

We have campus worship service on every Sunday at 11:30AM, at Education Room EDU 262.

Everyone is welcome!

University Motorsports Fan Club

- Club Description:

University of Alberta Accounting Club

- Club Description:

The University of Alberta Accounting Club (UAAC) has worked to the benefit of those with an interest in the accounting profession for over forty years. As one of the most active and successful student groups on campus, our club acts as a channel between the School of Business and the accounting industry. Our goal is to give students the opportunities to become well-rounded professionals and to find their place in the business world. Through the Accounting Club, you will have many opportunities to attend networking events, case competitions, and information seminars. We also offer volunteering opportunities to help you build your skills while giving back to the local community, for example, with the annual Tax Clinic. Anyone is welcome to join the UAAC regardless of your school, program of study, or major. Please visit our office on the second floor of the School of Business for more information.

University of Alberta Agriculture Club

- Club Description:

The Agriculture Club is a large group of great people! Whether you're going into an agriculture program, coming from an agricultural background, or just looking for a good group of friends, we welcome everyone! As we are mainly a social club, we plan a lot of events throughout the year. Our main event is Bar None where we throw a large country cabaret that brings the entire campus together while raising money for STARS Air Ambulance!

The Agriculture club has monthly meetings and social events throughout the year. We love meeting new people and welcoming them into our club! If you have any questions, feel free to send us an email!

University of Alberta Anthropology Undergraduates

- Club Description:

The UAAU is the official undergraduate organization for Anthropology students. We are a student association that promotes an undergraduate community within the Department of Anthropology. Our group encourages both academic and social activities and seeks to use the range and variety of student experience to contribute to all sub-disciplines of anthropology and to offer an anthropological perspective to other fields. We organize social and academic events throughout the year and offer a great way to get to know people in the anthropology department.

The UAAU respectfully acknowledges that we are located on Treaty 6 territory, a traditional gathering place for diverse Indigenous peoples including the Cree, Blackfoot, Métis, Nakota Sioux, Iroquois, Dene, Ojibway/ Sauteaux/Anishinaabe, Inuit, and many others whose histories, languages, and cultures continue to influence our vibrant community.

University of Alberta BIPOC and Allies Student Association

- Club Description:

Our mission is to provide a safe space for BIPOC graduate and undergraduate students and their supporters, and to create an environment where BIPOC (Black Indigenous, People of Colour) people can thrive and form a strong community and networks. The goal is primarily to advocate and support BIPOC people in any way possible at the University of Alberta.

The goals of the University of Alberta BIPOC and Allies Student Association shall be:

The University of Alberta Conservative Club is the official campus club of the Conservative Party of Canada and United Conservative Party of Alberta.

Aero Design

- Club Description:

University of Alberta Aero Design (Aero Design) is a student engineering group that designs and builds a fixed-wing unmanned aerial vehicle (UAV) capable of flying by remote control and carrying payload. Our team consists of students from a variety of disciplines that work together to design, finance, and build a new aircraft, from the ground up, every year. Members gain valuable, practical knowledge and experience in computer-aided design (CAD), hands-on construction, control systems, and trade studies such as finite element analysis (FEA) and computational fluid dynamics (CFD). Aero Design aims to provide students experience in designing and building a student vehicle project with an emphasis on trade studies and exposure to real-life challenges engineers face. We compete in the Society of Automotive Engineers (SAE) international Aero Design competition every year against teams from all over the world.

AlbertaLoop

- Club Description:

Albertaloop aims to design, build, and compete a hyperloop pod in the annual Hyperloop Pod Competition sponsored by SpaceX. The group is set to be composed of technical individuals (e.g., engineering and science students) as well as non-technical students (e.g., business students).

Website: <http://albertaloop.ca/>

AlbertaSat

- Club Description:

AlbertaSAT is a group of students and faculty at the University of Alberta that have come together to design, build, test, launch, and operate satellites. Our goal is to support global access to space, promote student learning in amateur radio, STEM, and open source design, to foster a commercial space industry, global space culture, and global space expansionism through our missions.

Beyond working with satellites, we strive to support a network of passionate individuals interested in space and amateur radio, to collaborate with and share experiences that are out of this world.

Association of Korean Canadian Scientists and Engineers

- Club Description:

The Association of Korean Canadian Scientists and Engineers (AKCSE/약세) is a non-profit organization founded in 1986. Our goal is to provide a support network for students studying in science and engineering, as well as academic and leadership opportunities.

Autonomous Robotic Vehicle Project (ARVP)

- Club Description:

The Autonomous Robotic Vehicle Project (ARVP) is an interdisciplinary robotics student group from the University of Alberta, whose purpose is to encourage the developments of autonomous robotic technologies within the University and the Edmonton area. ARVP enables students to gain practical experience in managing a robotics project from inception to completion, applying their education to real-world problems, and developing their knowledge in the field of robotics.

Website:<http://www.arvp.org/>

Diversity in Engineering (DivE)

- Club Description:

The Diversity in Engineering (DivE) Group advocates for the retention, inclusion, and interests of systematically marginalized groups in engineering. Through research, programming, outreach, and promotion of best practices, we take an intersectional approach to achieve a supportive environment that fosters the growth and learning of all students. DivE is a student-led initiative that is supported by the Faculty of Engineering and the Engineering Students' Society (ESS).

EcoCar

- Club Description:

The University of Alberta EcoCar team is a student-run engineering organization that designs and builds hydrogen fuel cell powered vehicles. Their aim is to push the limits of efficient transportation by developing a fuel cell car with maximum mileage. The EcoCar team primarily races at the annual Shell Eco-Marathon Americas, an international arena for fuel efficiency.

Engineers in Action

- Club Description:

Founded in 2015, Engineers in Action is a student group at the University of Alberta under the Bridge Program of the international organization Engineers in Action (formerly Bridges to Prosperity). They are an interdisciplinary team with a unified intent to utilize their talents and skills to bring about positive and long-lasting change through the construction of footbridges. By providing assistance in developing nations where infrastructures in rural areas and villages are lacking or non-existent, they are able to support individuals to reach their goals without having to compromise their safety and well being.

Formula SAE (Society of Automotive Engineers)

- Club Description:

University of Alberta Formula Racing is an interdisciplinary team of students that design and fabricate a single-seater, formula-style race car each year. Students gain valuable experience seeing their designs come to life and gain an understanding of the challenges of moving a design from idealized drawings and Computer Aided Design (CAD) models to a functioning final product. Team members are given the opportunity to learn manufacturing and fabrication techniques from basic assembly to advanced machining. Team members also apply technical engineering knowledge gained throughout their studies to a real-world design problem which is critiqued and tested at two annual competitions. At competition, students have the opportunity to interface with industry professionals (from Tesla, Ford, etc.) as well as competing teams from around the world, bringing home valuable feedback to apply to future designs.

Future Creators

- Club Description:

Future Creators is a University of Alberta student group that offers an engineering-based workshop and mentorship series for students in grades 7-12. The university engineering student mentors equip youth with the resources and knowledge to develop their own technology-based projects (using Arduino, coding, and 3D printing). Some projects students can develop include a quadcopter, robot car, and machine learning in video games to name a few. The core value of Future Creators is to empower youth to create their own technology projects. They are a student-led initiative that seeks to fill the “education gap” among children, a problem where children are often taught a pre-established curriculum at school but lack the opportunity to explore original ideas or create something new.

Great Northern Concrete Toboggan (GNCTR)

- Club Description:

The University of Alberta Great Northern Concrete Toboggan Race Team was formed to represent the University of Alberta in the Great Northern Concrete Toboggan Race. GNCTR is an annual event held in locations alternating between Eastern and Western Canada. Universities, Technical Schools, and Colleges from across Canada and the United States compete by designing, building and racing a “concrete toboggan”. The Toboggan’s running surface must be made of concrete while the rest of the sled can be made from other materials such as aluminium. In addition to competing in technical areas such as concrete and construction of the toboggan, each team competes in spirit, costumes and theme during competition. The purpose of attending competitions is to develop and showcase the technical skills and creativity of University of Alberta engineering students. Competition also allows students to interact and develop relationships with fellow students from the University of Alberta and students from other Canadian Universities.

Institute of Electrical & Electronics Engineers (IEEE)

- Club Description:

The IEEE student branch at the University of Alberta differentiates itself from other student clubs in that it is directly associated with a professional organization — IEEE is the world's largest professional organization for the advancement of technology. Their goal as a student branch is to foster the development of student professionalism and assist in transitioning from a student to an industry professional.

Level 7

- Club Description:

Level 7 believes in crafting a legacy of sustainability advocates who seek discomfort by challenging the status quo – we believe in action-driven change. Our project integrates an alternative recycling solution at the University of Alberta through the combination of people, platforms, and passion. By repurposing collected waste, we are able to provide various on-campus groups with education and eco-friendly materials. Uniting the community through sustainability and engineering, Level 7 provides a tangible solution to help mitigate the global waste crisis, while also striving to stimulate innovation in student groups. Together, we can declare war on plastic waste.

Microgravity Experiment Modules Establishment (MEMEs)

- Club Description:

A newly formed club whose main mission is to develop, build, and perform experiments in both micro and hypergravity. As industries launch into space, they help in proving theories that could be vital to the success of these industries. There are several national and international competitions for students looking to pursue projects in this field and the club plans to compete in as many as possible. Furthermore, they have a secondary project where they are designing the next-generation spacesuit for astronauts to use. New members can get started immediately with the design process for both of the projects and help with many other tasks around the team.

NeurAlbertaTech

- Club Description:

We promote education in neurotechnology through providing access to neurotechnology recording tools such as EEG devices, as well as workshops and mentorship for students interested in this field.

Renewable Energy Design

- Club Description:

Renewable Energy Design, RED, is a student-run organization at the University of Alberta committed to making campus a greener place. Members of the club have the opportunity to practice project management, leadership, HR, graphic design, advertising, and outreach. Members also get to network with solar companies and other organizations while gaining valuable research and design experience through the use of circuitry, AutoCAD, InventorPro, and 3D printing. RED is open to undergraduates in the disciplines of engineering, environmental sciences, industrial design, sciences, and business.

Robogals

- Club Description:

Robogals uAlberta is a not-for-profit student group that aims to inspire, engage, and empower young female students in engineering and technology related fields. They do this by holding free, interactive, student led workshops at elementary and middle schools. Robogals aims to engage young female students in engineering and technology related areas in order to help them understand the topics, and ultimately encourage them to pursue these fields when furthering their education at universities. They also focus on creating a positive culture surrounding females in engineering, and rid young females of any intimidation they have regarding the field as well as help build teamwork and problem solving skills at a young age.

RoboMaster

- Club Description:

We are UofA Robomasters, a student group dedicated for the yearly robotic competition called "Robomaster" that took place in Shenzhen, China. The competition is hosted and organized by Dji, which was rated top 10 most innovative company in 2015, just after Google and Tesla. The contest started in 2014 and attracted over 200 teams from around the world. Each team has to design and build 7 robots in total and control them in 1st person to compete against other teams in close-quarter combat, as well as using Artificial intelligence to finish objectives. Here at UofA, our team started in October of 2016 and was able to compete in this contest as the first Canadian university team. Besides the Admin team that oversees our group's operation, we have a Mechanical engineering team, Electrical engineering team, Computer science/Computer engineering team, as well as a Business team. It doesn't matter what background you are from, as long as you have a passion towards robots, there is a spot for you to get involved.

Society of Photo-Optical Instrumentation Engineers (SPIE)

- Club Description:

The U of A's club for optics and photonics. Our chapter consists of undergraduate and graduate students at the University of Alberta. Our student group provides an excellent opportunity to collaborate with like-minded students with similar interests. There are many great ways to be involved in our chapter including group activities, projects, lab tours, lectures, and outreach!

Space Exploration Alberta Robotics (SPEAR)

- Club Description:

Space Exploration Alberta Robotics is a team of University of Alberta students designing and building robotic systems applied to space exploration. SPEAR also works with DiscoverE to facilitate workshops on space exploration and technology. We are currently building our second Mars rover for the University Rover Challenge and Canadian International Rover Competition.

Student Team for Alberta Rocketry Research (STARR)

- Club Description:

Vision: To advance for, advocate, and inspire rocketry in Alberta's rising space industry and develop a post secondary educational program in spacecraft and rocketry engineering.

Mission: Our mission is to advocate for, advance, and inspire the rising Albertan space industry and to develop a post-secondary educational program in spacecraft and rocketry engineering. To accomplish this, we will devote our efforts towards developing a rocket for intercollegiate competitions, as well as to provide a platform with which we may test data acquisition instruments. Furthermore, we aim to educate the public through educational outreach, collaboration with other student teams, working with the engineering faculty to design sounding rockets, and developing rocketry classes. We are confident that this will diversify Alberta's industry, grab the community's excitement about rocketry, and strengthen Canada's position as a leader in the international aerospace community.

UAlberta Aerial Robotics Group (UAARG)

- Club Description:

UAARG is a multidisciplinary student vehicle project based out of the ECE Department. The group designs, builds, and tests small-scale Unmanned Aerial Vehicles (UAVs). Each year, UAARG enters one or more competitions in Canada and the USA. Competition scenarios range from automated delivery of medical supplies to doing remote reconnaissance for a Marines detachment. Our aircraft are typically installed with a dedicated autopilot board, onboard microcomputer to run in-house developed software, and various specialized equipment including cameras, cargo bays and more, to help complete mission requirements.

Members work throughout the year to design, build, and test various components of the aircraft and the system as a whole. This involves applying mechanical, electrical, and computer engineering knowledge such as aerodynamics, circuit design, soldering, and programming. Members also have the opportunity to develop skills in aviation regulation, drone piloting, group management, laboratory safety, and financial management.

University of Alberta Biomedical Technologies Development Group

- Club Description:

University of Alberta Biomedical Technologies Development Group is a multidisciplinary group seeking to create solutions to clinical and health issues through interdisciplinary action across the fields of science, medicine, and engineering. The group welcomes all students. UABiomed has both project and research based teams, in addition to our outreach and conference teams.

UAlberta Permaculture

- Club Description:

The University of Alberta Permaculture Group is a multidisciplinary student research group focused on the design and research of sustainable urban agriculture systems based on Aquaponics. Using a multidisciplinary approach, U of A Permaculture aims to develop an outreach program targeted to elementary and high school students based on the Alberta School Curriculum. The heart of the University of Alberta Permaculture Group is the design, operation, and research of an aquaponic farming system. Aquaponics is the integrated farming of fish (AQUAculture) and the soilless farming of plants (hydroPONICS). Our group aims to impact the future of food production and research through Professional Engineering and other STEM fields.

University of Alberta Women in Science and Engineering (UA-WiSE)

- Club Description:

UA-WiSE (University of Alberta Women in Science and Engineering) is a student group that supports individuals who are underrepresented in the fields of science, technology, engineering and mathematics (STEM). We focus on mentorship, networking, and the challenges of working in a non-traditional field.

We are the daughter of WISEST (Women in Scholarship, Engineering, Science and Technology), a University of Alberta organization that has been dedicated for over 30 years to the vision of strengthening science, engineering and technology communities through diversity.
